County Fair

A few random observations on the County Fair: Number of exhibits slipped quite a bit from the high of last year; 339 compared to 407 in 1955. Biggest drop was in the beef classes—the "one to a customer" ruling for the sale unquestionably had a lot to do with this. Swine and canning also down some, with an increase in sheep and the other classes about holding their own.

Myrna Pershall and Sharon Anderson taking champion ribbons for the second successive year; Myrna in the market hog division, Sharon with her Suffolk ewe.

Two names on the big Ontario Livestock Commission Co. trophy for the best 4-H livestock breeding project; the judges couldn't decide between Sharon Anderson's sheep project, and Linda Taylor's dairy project, so compromised by naming them as co-winners. They both have excellent projects.

The banner for the best club exhibit went to the Arcadia group. But it was so close that we want to get some additional awards for more clubs for next year. Certainly the Willowcreek, Vale View, Hyline and Pioneer clubs were crowding close on the heels

Mary Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Householder, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kreaeger, Mrs. Charles Share and her mother, Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. George Schweizer.
