Of Interest to The Fair Sex

By IONA FLINDERS

Our lovely new Holiday dresses are certainly "date bait" and irresistible. The lovely Shirley Lee Juniors in sizes from 7 to 15 include demure taffeta party dresses with bewitching bows and back interest, handsome failles with rhinestone studded buttons and last but not least, jersey and wool combinations that are right for every occasion. Be the first to choose yours for a lovely whirl of fun in the weeks to come.

And, oh yes, girls, we heard of a rather interesting idea from a school in a neighboring state and thought you might get a kick out of it, too. On nights when some of the girls are blind dating or have new prospects, they form a pool and each girl contributes a quarter. They make sure they see each others escorts during the evening and the next morning they all vote and the girl whose date is voted the worst wins all the money in the pool.

All the college kids will be home this weekend and it will be great. They bring a cheery "it's fun to be alive" attitude with them. We believe they appreciate things more than we give them credit for. But there's one thing for sure—in many a case of parents with a son or daughter in college, two can do live cheaper than one.

Come on up, gals, and see these darling dresses and in the meantime—more of our hints on how to be happy. Never puncture the other fellow's ego.
