Stranger
In The County

By Bill Campbell

Jingle bell notes: Santa's coming to town Saturday and here's hoping the 51 burned out bulbs will have been replaced by then! Course they have had to combat the elements for 12 solid months!

I don't know if it's happened to you, but it's happened to us recently. The water pressure in our home is ideal for bathing Christopher the parakeet, but takes considerable gyrations in the shower for yours truly to get all wet.

No doubt there's a good reason for the line tampering lately, but as happens so often around here—we get the explanation after—not before things are switched. We wouldn't be nearly as critical of such things as the lack of operation of the new street sweeper had we known the new $12,000 machine was bused.

Too late department: A contest, classified, for the most attractive window displays by the merchants of Nyssa. I know for whom I would have voted, but there's one committee I'll never get on! Imagine me voting for one advertiser over another? Might as well vote for Wayne Morse and get locked out of my mother's home from here to eternity.

Yah! You're right! I'm a bitter loser.

Say, you farmers and ranchers—are you taking a good look at th "mystery farms" we are running each week? These shots from the blue are excellent and the photographers covered quite a territory around Nyssa including both sides of the river—way up the Butte, around Adrian and North to the approximate area of the Cairo junction. If the farm is yours, you'll receive FREE a beautiful glossy photo—this week courtesy of Ken Renstrom, sponsor. All of you drop into Ken's if you know the farm and simply sign a ticket. You may get an unexpected jackpot. The photo will also be on display in the Journal window.

The teenagers are getting hopped up about the forthcoming dances to be sponsored by the Eagles here. Mother and dad should be happy, too. It means supervised programs close to home with the high school officials and the Eagles cooperating.

Got the word from the back shop that we are "crowded" this week. Now isn't that dandy? Means I'd better go home and check on Pica. She's getting altogether too many boy friends lately. (Getting close to eight months, now.)

Her favorite is Bob Thompson's dog "Ug!"—that's his name. What
