Visit our store now while stocks are complete and then listen to the compliments.

Visited some of the neighboring towns and there's nothing we know of that gives one a finer glow of satisfaction than parking on what's left of somebody else's nickel. Makes one appreciate our own town where one can shop carefree and easy without the fear of being fined for overtime parking and constantly rushing back to feed the pesky expensive meter.

We also found that Nyssa has everything any other town has and more, if you're in the shopping mood, for less money too, in lots of cases. Especially anything in the line of feminine needs and Wilson's Style Shop is the ideal place for things for milady.

In order to please women you must begin by trying to understand them. After you understand them, it becomes easy. They always tell you what to do next. Just a thought that you might pass on to the superior sex; they probably will appreciate it.

And now for another happiness rule:

Treat your neighbor understandingly.
