June Is Dairy Month!

when watery spring pastures make fussy eaters...

Purina Bulky-Las whets appetites, helps maintain top cow condition

Dairymen don't ordinarily complain this time of year about milk flow or cow condition.

But, when lush pasture grass contains up to 85% water, cows often eat so much grass they get full and won't eat their grain. They continue to milk well, but often lose weight if they do not eat enough grain while on lush pasture.

Then, when pastures turn brown, most of the grain ration will be needed to maintain the cows' bodies. Milk production usually drops off when body condition is poor.

Maintain body condition with Bulky-Las Top-feed palatable Bulky-Las with whatever ration you are now feeding... (up to one-half gallon per cow per milking). Bulky-Las stimulates cows' appetites, adds body-building nourishment to your ration, and keeps cows producing well, right up to dry-off time. Cows go for the molasses, bulky beet pulp, alfalfa meal, vitamins and minerals in Bulky-Las.

Bulky-Las helps balance with minerals and energy the watery grass your cows eat on pasture.

No matter what kind of grain ration you are now feeding, ask us about Bulky-Las. We will gladly give you proof that Bulky-Las is tops when it comes to helping maintain cow condition.

Kill those flies now! Get the jump on the fly problem this spring. Sprinkle PURINA FLY BAIT lightly wherever flies gather. In the dairy barn, poultry house, kennel... and in outdoor areas, too. Flies naturally go for Purina Fly Bait. And does it kill 'em! So, be sure to check your Checkerboard Man, and beat the fly problem.
