Gardening Days Are Salad Days

If you're a home gardener, surely nothing's more satisfying than being able to enjoy the products of your green thumb. Gather in the "fixings" for a crisp, cool salad bowl, and you'll be well rewarded for your gardening efforts.

Fill a basket with your choicest garden lettuce, vine-ripened tomatoes, cucumbers, scallions and radishes. Wash and chill these garden treasures, then toss together lightly with a perfectly seasoned dressing.

One of our favorites is the Tomato Soup Dressing, given below. It has a tantalizing flavor that lends real zest and sparkle to garden-fresh salads. This dressing is easy on the calories, too, for it's made with the non-calorie sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than with sugar. Simply by the use of this sweetener, calories have been slashed from 45 calories to just 28 calories per tablespoonful. Best part is, you just can't taste the difference. For, without adding a single calorie, this sweetener gives cooked and baked foods a naturally sweet, sugar-like flavor.

Whether you're weight-watching or not, we think you'll enjoy this sweet yet tangy dressing:

TOMATO SOUP DRESSING
(Low-Calorie)

1/2 cup salad oil	2 teaspoons Sucaryl solution
1 cup vinegar	or 16 tablets, crushed
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) tomato soup	2 tablespoons chopped onion
	1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

Combine all ingredients and blend well.
Makes 2 3/4 cups or 44 tablespoons. Each tablespoon contains 28 CALORIES; 0.1 gram protein; 2.6 grams fat; 1.1 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each tablespoon would contain 45 CALORIES.
