Council Considers Committee Report

tee was appointed last summer by Mayor Cliff Main to undertake a comphrehensive study of municipal water and sewer rates in the city and to ascertain any need for revision of existing rates and submit recommendations to the city council.

This group issued their recommendations to the city council in the form of a report last February. Lew Herriman, a committee member, represented the utility committee at Monday night's meeting.

In general, the committee report recommends that water meters be installed in all service lines on the city water system as soon as possible and that sewer users served by water meters be charged 30 percent of their monthly water charge.

Volume Rates Given

The monthly minimum water charge of $2.50 for a 5/8 inch meter, the size used by most homes, also recommended by the committee, who suggested the following volume rates to be applied after a minimum monthly usage of 3,000 gallons:

3,001 - 6,000 gallons used per month, 40 cents per thousand gallons; 6,001-16,000 gallons, 30 cents; 16,001-100,000 gallons, 15 cents; and all over 100,000 at 10 cents per thousand gallons.

The committee recommended that meters, which they estimated would cost an average of $45 per ⅝-inch meter, be installed immediately in all service lines serving two or more users and in all commercial, public and industrial service lines; then in all residential service lines which serve properties in excess of 50 feet frontage; and finally in all remaining residential service lines.

"Pays for Itself"

The committee concluded that such a meter system could be financed by the city entirely out of water revenues within four years, without additional cost to water users.

On sewer rates, the committee recommended a minimum charge of $1.25 per month for all water users within the city having access to the sanitary sewer system and, for all cases in which more than one water user is served by a single water service line, $1.25 for the first unit, 75 cents for the second unit and 25 cents for each additional unit.

The citizens' group recommended that until water meters are installed a sewer charge of $1.25 per month for residential units be adopted.

Recommendations of the committee are strictly advisory to the council, which is not bound to act upon them.

Adrian District Soil Survey Now Being Conducted

Work began in July on soil surveys in the newly-formed Adrian Soil Conservation district, according to Harry Wakefield, unit conservationist.

Soils scientist Dick Herriman has been working with a Soil Conservation service specialist from Vale this month, Wakefield said, on the Dick Kreigh, Wilbur Chapin and adjoining properties. The surveyors make their studies in soils, Wakefield explained, and are not concerned with property lines in their portion of the survey. Therefore, he added, any farmer in the Adrian SCS district may see these men on their farm at most any time.

The survey will provide basic material for development of Conservation farm planning, Wakefield said.

The Adrian Soil Conservation district extends from the Malheur river south for approximately 48 miles and is from 22 to 24 miles wide, containing approximately 500 farms. The district was approved in January by a vote of 68 to 4. The district office opened under Wakefield July 1 at Owyhee junction.

Member Campaign For Nyssa Legion Gets Underway

"Get the Pride of Belonging" is the 1959 American Legion membership slogan according to State Vice Commander Fred E. Bennett. The state Legion chief pointed out that the old timers of the American Legion have pride of belonging" which helped build the organization into the world's biggest veteran group.

"The younger vets of World War II who had Korean action are 'latching on' in good style, he said. This evidence of esprit de corps is equal to that of their World War I founders, who got the show on the road back in Paris, France, March 15-17, 1919.

"Pride of belonging to the American Legion has been the motivation for much of our accomplishments over the years. The legion is tops in the field of veteran's legislation, rehabilition, Americanism, child welfare and national security. It takes no back seat when it comes to community service and in most of our cities and towns leaders in the American Legion are leaders in the civic scene", he said.

"Any American Legionnaire who has participated in these programs has the "Pride of Belonging." Post Commander Jack Anderson made this statement today as the Nyssa American Legion Post No. 79, 1959 membership campaign currently gets underway. They invite all eligible veterans in the community to join the American Legion and as fellow veterans, help share in the pride.

A no-host membership dinner will be held at Brownie's Cafe tonight (Thursday) at 7:30. First Vice Commander Kay Brendle and Second Vice Commander Leonard Hewett are the captains of the membership teams.
