Former Nyssa Residents Celebrate Golden Anniversary at Quincy, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Dewey were accompanied to Quincy by Edward Dewey's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dewey of Weiser. Tentative plans are being made to hold another anniversary observance for the Deweys later in the fall in Nyssa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey were married Dec. 24, 1908 in Barkley, Neb., and moved to Nyssa in 1938 from Scotts Bluff, Neb. They resided in Nyssa for 14 years where they were engaged in farming on the present Merrillean Robbins place approximately six miles west of Nyssa. In 1952 they moved to Eugene then to West Richland, Wash. where they are making their home with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Matlock.

Sixty-two were present for the anniversary celebration, including their six sons, Dale of Nyssa; Edward of Orleans, Neb.; Floyd of Seattle; Frank, Quincy, Wash.; the Rev. Bob Dewey, Homedale and John of Rushville, Ind.; their two daughters, Mrs. Matlock, West Richland and Audrey Henry of Hermiston, Ore. and 32 grandchildren.

During the afternoon, the double ring ceremony was re-enacted with the honoree's son, the Rev. Bob Dewey officiating minister.

The United Presbyterian church at Adrian was the scene of the wedding Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, of Miss Linda Mae Costley to Ira Price, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Price, Sr. of Rt. 2, Nyssa. The Rev. Henry Moore officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Verna Costley, was given in marriage by her grandfather, Alfred Costley. She wore a white floor length Chantilly lace over satin gown with Queen Ann collar and skirt fashioned with inserts of pleated net. Her lace trimmed veil was held in place with a tiara of tiny seed pearls, and she carried a pink rosebud Bible corsage with cascades of stephanotis.

Candlelighters were Joel Price, brother of the bridegroom, and Gene Worden, cousin of the bride. Miss Lois Ann Rathoun, cousin of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a floor length pink crystal-lette gown and carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Shirley Skinner, Mary Lorgson, Sandra Ross and Bernice Jorgenson. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Mary Worden, cousin of the bride. They were attired in identical ballerina length gowns of pink crystallette with matching headbands and carried bouquets of white gladioli.

Flower girls were Teresa and Cheryl Halvorsen, cousins of the bride, who wore frocks of pink and white flowered nylon and carried baskets of pink phlox, decorated with pink bows and ribbon streamers.

Best man was Kenneth Price, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Donald, Gary and Allen Costley, Kenneth Rathoun and Fred Babcock, Jr.

Mrs. O. D. Lewis was pianist. Mrs. Garry Fife read "How Do I Love Thee" and soloist was Mrs. August Michaelis who sang "I Love You Truly" and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Robert Michaelis.

The bride's mother wore an off-white afternoon dress with navy blue accessories and the groom's mother chose pink and gray. Their corsages were of pink roses.

The church was decorated with two beauty baskets and two smaller baskets of pink and white gladioli with candelabra and pink tapers. The reception table was decorated with pink rose bouquets.

At the reception held in the church basement following the ceremony, Mrs. Ed Costley, aunt of the bride, served the cake, Mrs. Floyd Peterson, the coffee and Mrs. Robert Halvorsen, cousin of the bride, served the punch. Mrs. Orville Groves, Mrs. Donald Share, Mrs. James McGinnis, Jr., Miss Sharon Fox, Miss Janet Ross and Mrs. Kenneth Price had charge of the gifts while Mrs. Elvin Worden, aunt of the bride, supervised the guest book. Approximately 200 guests attended the wedding and reception.
