A big-game hunter's recollections, the legal rights of the defendant, and cases of medical detection are the subjects of books heading the group that went into circulation on Saturday, Oct. 11, at the Malheur County Library.

"Hunter's Tracks" by John Hunter is the author's reminiscences of fifty years as a hunter of big game in East Africa.

"The Defendant's Rights" by David Fellman explains in non-legal language the laws affecting the criminal defendant, and discusses the position of such "quasi-defendants" as security cases and defendants before investigating committees.

"The Incurable Wound" by Berton Roueche contains narratives of medical detection in such areas as rabies carried by bats, amnesia, aspirin, and cortisone.

"The Damned Wear Wings" by David Cameron is a story of combat missions over the Ploesti oil fields and of 3 men, a squadron commander, an earth-bound intelligence officer, and a pilot who falls in love with an Italian girl.

"The Awakened" by Zoe Oldenbourg is a story of conflicting loyalties about the daughter of a Jew turned Catholic and her love for the son of a White Russian officer in Paris in the days before World War II.

"The Called and the Chosen" is a novel written in diary form by Monica Baldwin, purporting to be the observations of a nun.

"Victoria and Albert" is a fictional account by Eve Stephens about the youth and marriage of England's queen and consort.

"The Return of Ansel Gibbs" by Frederick Buechner concerns a man summoned from retirement to a post in the President's cabinet who agrees to appear on a sensational TV program with a senator opposed to his appointment.

"A Terrible Beauty" by Arthur Roth is the story of a patriotic young Irishman's gradual disillusionment after he joins the Irish Republican Army in 1940.

"How To Do Nothing With Nobody All Alone By Yourself" by Robert Paul Smith sets down the things the author did for amusement as a child such as playing a game with horsehoofnuts, making a spool tank, etc.

"Lover's Point" by Chin-yang Li is a novel about the Chinese in California.

"The Kingdom of This World" by Alejo Carpentier recreates the 18th-century era of foreign misrule in Haiti, the subsequent native uprising, and government by the new conquerors.

"From Ape to Angel" by Hoffman Hays explores the folkways, totems, and taboos of primitive peoples as seen by those who have spent their lives studying them.

"Pious and Secular America" by Reinhold Niebuhr is a collection of essays relating to the relationship of the religious to the social and political life of America.

"Techniques for Marketing New Products" by Douglas Banning is treated especially from the standpoint of small business, and colors salient aspects of merchandising, advertising, and managing the introduction of a new product.

Mrs. John Cindell, Terry and Craig of Boise were guests from Friday until Tuesday at the J. A. Cindell home while John Cindell was on a deer hunting trip.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By County Extension Agents

Achievement Meetings
With the close of the 1958 4-H club year, 4-H members and leaders will be receiving their achievement awards for work done this past season. Most of these will be presented at achievement meetings sponsored by some community or county organization.

The first of these achievement meetings was held Tuesday, Oct. 7 at Jordan Valley and was sponsored by the Jordan Valley PTA. There were 32 4-H members and leaders receiving the achievement pins and certificates.

Club members receiving 5-year gold pins were Michael Hanley, Sharon Anderson and Everett Jones. Sixth year certificates went to Sharon Bennett and Suzanne Hanley.

Leader awards went to Mrs. Maxine Yturraspe, Mrs. Hazel Hanley, Mrs. Jessie Sinclair, Mrs. Phyllis Dentel, E. E. Jones and Richard Bennett. Bud Jones received his 2nd year junior leader pin.

Achievement pins for the club members were awarded by the First National Bank. Donor of the leader awards is the United States National Bank.

Other achievement meetings scheduled for the near future include a meeting at Boulevard Grange on Oct. 24, A Rock Grange on Oct. 25 and Oregon Trail Grange on Nov. 7. The Oregon Trail meeting will be on the Grange booster night, and will include pot-luck supper for the club members and leaders.

Junior Leaders
The October meeting of the Malheur Junior Leaders organization is scheduled for next Monday, Oct. 13, at the home of Margaret Carlstrom. Meeting time is 8:00 p.m., according to Lynne Hoffman, president of the county organization. Guest speaker will be Miss Delores Echanis, who will describe her visit to Spain this last spring.

Clubs Organized
Enrollments for two new clubs were received during the past few days.

The Ontario "Kitchen Kids" cooking club has 16 members, with Sue Westfall, Charli Harland, Kay Pobanz, Willadean Huling and Betty Pobanz as officers. Leaders are Mrs. Shirley Huling and Mrs. Florence Pobanz.
