Couple Honored With Reception In Legion Hall

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Leseberg

In an 8 o'clock ceremony Friday Jan. 2, Miss Phyllis Medlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Medlock, and Gerry Leseberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leseberg all of Nyssa, exchanged wedding vows before the Rev. Lowell Foster in the Bible Missionary church.

Approximately 200 guests were in attendance. Two large baskets of lavender and white flowers served as decorations for the church. Soloists were Janet Medlock sister of the bride, and Raymond Edwards of Nampa. A duet was rendered by Miss Janet Medlock and Miss Carolyn Barker. Accompanist was Miss Becky Lee Medlock, sister of the bride, who also furnished prelude music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Desmond Medlock, Longview, Wash., was attired in a floor length gown of white satin, featuring graduated tiers of lace in the back, accented with a large bow. She carried a lavender orchid with white streamers on a Mother of Pearl Bible from Jerusalem. Her only jewelry was a Cameo which belonged to her great-great grandmother.

Susan Elaine Medlock was maid of honor. She wore a lavender sheath dress of brocaded taffeta showing an overskirt of dark lavender. Her headpiece was a lavender band with bow and she carried a nosegay of lavender and white carnations. Bridesmaids were Sharon Medlock, sister of the bride and Carolyn Jones. Both were attired identically to that of the maid of honor, and they wore net and flower head pieces.

Candlelighters were the Misses LaDonna Seward and Linda Leseberg, cousin of the bridegroom. They wore lavender and white pleated dresses with dark sashes and head bands of white flowers, and wrist corsages.

Flower girls were Nona Kendall and Christine McKay, cousins of the bride of Boise. They were dressed in floor length lavender taffeta dresses and carried white baskets of petals.

Serving as best man was William E. Leseberg, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Gene Servoss and John Simianer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Medlock chose a navy blue dress. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Leseberg wore a blue suit with white accessories. Both had red rose corsages.

Following the ceremony the couple was honored with a reception, with Mrs. Leroy Seward in charge, at the American Legion hall. After the initial cut of the three tier wedding cake, decorated with lavender and white roses, it was served by Mrs. Joe Ackerman, Kelso, Wash., sister of the bride. Punch was served by Mrs. Allen Jones and Mrs. George Leseberg, aunt of the bridegroom, poured coffee. Gifts were cared for by Miss Nancy Skeen, Mrs. Virgil Seward, Miss Helen Ackerman, niece of the bride, and Miss Wanda Knapp.

The bride is a graduate of Nampa high school, attended Orange county vocational school and is employed with Dessert Seed Co. Her bridegroom is a Nyssa high school graduate, attended Yakima Jr. college and is presently employed with C. E. Lese-
