

W. T. Raffington Is Honored Guest On 91st Birthday

W. T. RAFFINGTON
... Cow Hollow Homesteader

W. T. "Doc" Raffington of Cow Hollow was honored guest Thursday night, March 10, when more than 60 friends gathered at the Cow Hollow hall to celebrate his 91st birthday. Guests were represented from Nyssa and surrounding communities, Star, Kuna, Caldwell and Middleton.

Doc Raffington, a retired dentist came to Cow Hollow in 1936 and homesteaded his present ranch. He and Mrs. Raffington did most of their own work in building their home and farm buildings, and clearing the land of sagebrush and preparing it for cultivation.

They came here from Taloga, dentistry for several years, and followed that program in Oklahoma and Kansas for many previous years.

Cow Hollow hall, opened especially for the occasion last Thursday, was filled to capacity for the potluck dinner and dance. An effort was made to invite all the old settlers and Mr. Raffington's friends. Music for the occasion was furnished by Chas. McCoy, Irvin and Henry Durfee, Wanda Cates and Mrs. Ray Callahan.
