

Nyssa Loses to Ontario Tigers 13-7— Stan's Stand From the Stands...

By STAN THOMPSON

A large and loyal band of Nyssa pigskin fans filled the trunks of their cars with blankets and warm clothing for the ordeal facing them last Friday night at Ontario. The menacing sky made the TV set look mighty inviting. Cold and wind and drops of rain caused one to shiver and turn up his collar. Boy, it's going to be a cold one tonight!

Starting through the working windshield wipers at the road ahead and talking of Nyssa's chances against the Tigers slowly triggered the tingle of excitement that was to come. We had beaten Mac-Hi, a top team. We were to play Ontario, a top team. Could we do it? That was the question.

Soon we pulled up to the lighted field. Braving the chill of the coming winter, we found a hard spot on the bleachers (which wasn't too difficult) and buried ourselves in earflaps, hunting boots and thick blankets, being careful not to smother ourselves.

Around us sat fan after fan who with tongue in cheek watched Coaches Bob Morford and Harry McGinley put the boys through their paces. The game was about to start, and I was about to freeze. Time for the kickoff. Boy, I'd hate to kick that ball with a frozen foot. There it goes. The Bulldogs and Tigers meet.

Teams Scoreless in First Half

And for an entire two quarters the two teams remained deadlocked. Neither team scored and neither team threatened. The cold air made cold hands, and cold hands made fumbles. And fumbles there were—one after the other. One player would tackle the runner, and another would tackle the ball. And the fumble didn't seem to care which team it hurt. It simply had fun squirming from one player to another.

Q. Smith was busy either thawing out a valve for the tuba player or loosening the trumpet player's lips from his mouthpiece. Cold as it was Q.'s music sounded great.

Shiraishi of the Tigers captured the fancy of the crowd as time after time he ducked his head and pretended to be a plow. Fast, too.

First of Season's Deer

WILLIS "RED" WILLIAMSON, owner of Nyssa Tavern, is pictured here with three of the first deer to show up on Main street following opening of the season Oct. 1. These three were brought in by Al Bankus, Marvin Jones and George Hurst, all of Powers, Ore. They were all members of Williamson's hunting party who bagged their animals northwest of Westfall. Williamson said his deer had already been taken for processing when the picture was taken.

Nyssa Loses to Vale

The Nyssa Bulldog JV's lost a 6-0 decision Monday afternoon to visiting Vale in a knockdown, dragout contest. A modest crowd filled some of the space in the bleachers to see Nyssa try in vain time after time to run around the Vale team.

The Vikings took to the air with effective passing, while Nyssa attempted only three passes.

The Bulldogs threatened in the fourth quarter but couldn't get the ball across.

Adrian Posts Win

The Adrian Antelope eleven shutout Notus 46-0 last week on their home field in a game that turned into a practice session for the host team. The man on the scoreboard was kept busy as McDonald took to the air, connecting with passes.

Lovett, Sparks and Seuell all figured in the slaughter. Notus saw the backyard of Adrian only once, briefly.

Morse Announces Academy Exams

Senator Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) announced this week that preliminary civil service examinations will be given in Oregon on Saturday, Nov. 12, 1960, to young men interested in nomination to a service academy.

Unmarried men in good physical condition who will have reached their 17th but not 22nd birthday by July, 1961, are eligible to participate in the examination, the Oregon senator explained.

The tests are the first step toward possible appointment to the Military academy at West Point, N.Y., Naval academy at Annapolis, Md., Air Force academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., or the Merchant Marine academy at Kings Point, N.Y.

"Because I am allowed to make only a very limited number of academy appointments each year," Morse declared, "I base my decision solely upon the results of the impartially conducted, competitive examinations."

The senator urged that young men interested in participating in the Nov. 12 examination write to him immediately to obtain full information and learn the exact locations at which tests will be administered. His address is 417 Senate Office building, Washington 25, D.C.

Morse emphasized that deadline for receipt of inquiries by his office is Oct. 20.

OREGON TRAIL GRANGE MEMBERS MEET THURSDAY

Members of the Oregon Trail Grange held their regular meeting Thursday evening. The group decided to have their 4-H and Booster nights separate.

Frank Sherwood appointed Rommel Moss chairman of the community service project.
