stories don't make the paper go. I ran my paper for 40 years on the basis of three important points — births, marriages and deaths. People paid more attention to these items than anything else and that's still the backbone of any paper, I don't care what they say."

'Speech Disorders' Is Topic of Program Heard by Instructors

A definite attempt is being made to help parents in their understanding of all problems of children who are afflicted with cerebral palsy, Mrs. J. W. Rigney reported after attending a handicapped children's meeting Jan. 10 at Moore hotel in Ontario. These meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month to discuss matters concerning training of those children who are seriously handicapped.

Guest speaker at the January meeting was Bruce Ryan, director of Speech and Hearing Center at Eastern Oregon college in La

SISSON NAMED SECRETARY OF PFA AT OREGON STATE

Stanley Sisson of route 2, Nyssa, has been elected an officer in the Oregon State college chapter of Future Farmers of America.

Sisson is a junior in agriculture this year at OSC. He will be secretary for the chapter.

Grande. Ryan showed film strips of various types of speech disorders and led a question and answer period.

These meetings provide a much-needed opportunity for parents to share ideas, Mrs. Rigney said, and it is hoped that many will come to recognize that much can be learned from each shared discussion.
