Yturri Sees Big Boost for Oregon's Economy Through Boardman Tract Lease to Boeing Airplane Company Should Mean Population Increase; Bring Payrolls, Tax Property to Morrow County

By Senator Anthony Yturri

The legislature took action upon some important matters this week. Perhaps of greatest significance was the passage of two bills which enable the state to enter into contracts with Boeing Airplane company. These bills will bring into reality a Space Age Industrial park at Boardman in Morrow county.

While the immediate use may be limited to missile testing and some research, it seems almost inevitable that there will be a population surge in this area, not to mention large additional payrolls and perhaps millions of dollars in property to the tax rolls. The lease will be for a period of 80 years and the rental which Boeing will pay is set at $60,000 a year. However, these are but by-products of the benefits which Oregon will gain.

It is well that a delegation of legislators went to Seattle to discuss the problem at first hand with Boeing officials. They learned that the representations and reports of the governor and his staff were accurate. The bill passed both houses unanimously. The government and the Department of Planning and Development are to be complimented for their foresight and diligence in enhancing the cause of Oregon's development and advancement.

Insurance Bill Passes Senate

Another milestone may be reached by Oregon if the action of the senate is duplicated in the house. What many believe to be a most important bill passed the senate with a 16 to 14 vote. This bill, which was Senate Bill 334, will permit an employer to decide for himself whether he wants his employees to be insured against occupational injuries by a private insurance company, the State Industrial Accident fund, or by the employer himself.

At the present time, Oregon has a monopoly in this field of insurance. The employer must either contribute to the fund or expose himself to lawsuits wherein the ordinary defenses of contributory negligence, negligence of a fellow servant and assumption of risk are made nonavailable to him.

It means the introduction of competition into the workmen's compensation insurance field and an opportunity for free enterprise to participate in this area. At the present time, 43 states have a competitive basis of insurance, and actually about 90 percent of the employees in the nation are covered by states having competitive workmen's compensation insurance.

Allows Choice by Employer

This bill, if enacted, will still allow the employer to be covered by the state fund if he chooses, but if he does not so elect, he can obtain insurance of another kind. The amounts which the injured workman receives will be identical regardless of the type of insurance, because the amounts to be paid are fixed by statute exactly as they are now. The workmen WILL NOT lose any benefits.

The state has admitted that it is deficient in certain important respects, but claims that it will improve these existing weaknesses. One thing is certain, the state will have to increase its rates, because during the past four or five years it has paid out several millions more each year than it has taken in as premiums. Frankly, it is extremely doubtful that the bill will pass the House of Representatives because of the opposition. The Farm Bureau and Associated Oregon Industries, which represents business, actively support the bill, while it is violently opposed by labor leaders.

Blood Test Bill Passes

Traffic safety has been improved to a certain extent. The senate passed Senate Bill 28, which adopts the "implied consent" law for Oregon. I carried this bill on the floor and there was bitter debate before it finally passed. Most of the objection came from attorneys. This bill, if passed, will require that when a person is lawfully arrested for drunken driving, he must submit to a chemical test to determine the amount of alcohol in his blood.

If he refuses to submit to either a blood test or some other form of test, then his license is automatically suspended for three months, not because he was drunk, but because of his violation of his agreement to submit to a test if so arrested.

He may contest the validity of the test, and he must be informed when arrested that his license will be so suspended if he refuses. The test must be taken by a qualified physician or under his direction and must be made within two hours after the arrest.

Should Reduce Accidents

If this bill passes the house now and becomes law, it should reduce accidents considerably in Oregon. Nine other states have such a law and their experience shows that it is a deterrent. Presently, there are thousands who lose their lives due to drunken drivers. In addition, thousands are crippled and often maimed for life, and the value of property destruction due to drunk driving runs into the millions. I felt that it was our duty to do whatever we can to reduce this carnage on our highways.

The bill contains many safeguards for the person arrested—more so than in other states. Also, the bill includes certain presumptions based upon the amount of alcohol in the blood. One who has less than 5/100ths of 1 percent is presumed not to be under the influence; there is no presumption when the amount is between 5/100ths and 15/100ths of 1 percent, but when it is over 15/100ths of 1 percent, there is a presumption of being under the influence. In Sweden, Iceland and Norway they punish the offender when the amount is 5/100ths.

Actually, experts told our committee that one having 15/100ths is pathetically drunk, regardless of his tolerance, size, age, habits or whatever he has just eaten.

The senate, at least, felt that our duty to society and innocent users of the highways justifies such abridgement of individual rights as may be encompassed in this bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell of Coos Bay, Mrs. Florence Guptill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schoen were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller and sons.

Dear Editor:

It is difficult for me to see why anyone would object to the investigation of un-American activities by a committee set up by the highest power of the United States government.

Over and over we hear the question, "Who shall decide?" Yet decide someone must. We cannot give free rein to subversive groups or individuals. No person, whoever he may be, or office he may hold, should be exempt from investigation by this committee.

We know that infiltration by subversives into all phases for the dissemination of knowledge has happened all too often. How else can that evil be kept in check? When man becomes such that he does not continually strive to dominate all other fellow humans, make them slaves to his will, then only will some power to investigate his activities be unnecessary.

Let any group of people associate together for a common effort; in time a few members will strive to dominate the whole group and cause that group to follow a course of action contrary to their majority will. The principal tool of such dominion is fear of reprisal.

That is not the way of life in a free society. It is un-American; it is the Communist way. Only a power such as vested in the House of Representatives and its un-American activities investigating committee can keep that evil in check.

Have You Heard about Mortgage Protection Insurance?

When there's a mortgage on your home, one of your chief duties is to see that those important monthly installments are paid on time. When you're disabled (maybe for months) and CAN'T EARN, who's going to make those mortgage payments for you? In such an emergency, wouldn't it be a comfort to have your insurance company "pick up the tab" for your monthly installments during the time when you're disabled? Our Disability Income policy can provide monthly benefits which are equal to the amount of your mortgage installments. May we explain just how this plan works?
