From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Nobody's in the Doghouse

The question of our town dog catcher came up at the last town meeting and someone started a little fuss about Slim Thomas—said he'd been dog catcher for a year and hadn't caught a single dog.

Buck Hanson spoke right up. "Aren't any dogs to catch. Any stray turns up, and if the dog's healthy, Slim gives it to some youngster to keep for a pet. We don't want to elect a man who'd put harmless little pups in cages, do we?"

I guess we don't, because Slim got re-elected, and they even gave him a raise in pay.

From where I sit, the folks in our town are a pretty nice bunch. Live and let live, they say—and they don't just apply this old axiom to strays, either. Me, for instance. Most every time a neighbor asks me over for dinner he serves me a glass of beer. He knows that's my preference, even though his might be coffee or tea. There's no "catch" to being a good neighbor—just be a tolerant one.
