Curious Riddle
Uncovered by
Survey of Active
Housewives

Recently we asked an independent research organization to visit with 100 active housewives about extension telephones. "Well," one young mother said, "I'd probably get an extension phone if my house weren't so small."

This pointed up a curious riddle and set us to thinking about so-called "small" houses.

Is your house "small" because it has one less bedroom than your neighbor's? Is it "small" because it doesn't have a basement? Are housewives in "big" houses the only ones who get tired at the end of the day? Obviously not—and no one knows it better than you do when you finally finish the dinner dishes.

The fact is that so long as you're fixing meals, making beds, washing clothes, cleaning, dusting and picking up toys, you aren't living in a "small" house.

What has all this got to do with an extension phone? Add up the number of trips you take between rooms. With a well-located second phone (say in the kitchen), you're bound to save some steps. Your work will be a little easier and your life a little more pleasant. To top it off, you can enjoy a second phone for only pennies a day. The pleasure it will bring is worth much more than that.

Talk it over with your family tonight. Then tomorrow, order from our business office or a telephone serviceman if you see his truck in your neighborhood.

Presenting the Bell Chime!
You get three distinctive rings, including a melodious chime. Call us for details.
