

Nyssa Bulldogs Take 12-0 Decision Over Weiser Wolverines Friday Night For Second Win in Conference Play

By SHAREN JAQUES

Chalking up their second conference victory, the Nyssa Bulldogs slipped past the hosting Weiser Wolverines 12-0 Friday evening.

In the opening minutes of the first quarter the Bulldogs moved the ball inside Weiser's 45-yard line with the aid of two Weiser offside penalties. The Bulldogs were set back by a five-yard penalty and were forced to punt on fourth down. The Wolverines took over but were unable to make yardage and were also forced to punt.

The ball went back and forth between teams until the closing minutes of the quarter when the Bulldogs recovered a Weiser fumble and two plays later, on a reverse, Butch Bingman brought the ball to the Weiser three-yard line. Seconds later the gun sounded to end the quarter with the score deadlocked at 0-0.

An offside penalty set Nyssa back five yards as second quarter action started and the Wolverines formed a tight defense, keeping the Bulldogs from making the necessary yardage for the first down and touchdown.

Weiser took over with Clinton Albano, on third down, going through the middle for a first down. Harold Sasaki went nine yards the next play to make it second and one. On the fourth down the Wolverines fumbled and Nyssa recovered. The Bulldogs again lost the ball on downs.

The ball switched hands several times until the final seconds of the half when the Bulldogs took over on downs and began a goal-line drive. They were set back by a 15-yard penalty but came out on top when Dave Walker lofted a 31-yard pass to Paige Zobel who carried it into the end zone to give the Bulldogs a 6-0 advantage as halftime gun sounded.

Third quarter action was held to a minimum. Zobel booted the kickoff into the end zone and the Wolverines were unable to make the necessary yardage for a first down and were forced to punt. The Nyssa eleven took over and staged a goal-line drive which ended on the Weiser 40 as the Bulldogs gave up the ball on downs.

Four plays later, George Jones caught Weiser's punt and romped to the Weiser 11, only to have the play nullified by a Nyssa clipping penalty. The quarter ended with the count remaining at 6-0. The Bulldogs punted the second play of the final stanza and made a quick recovery as the ball bounced off a Wolverine chest. This gave the Nyssa crew the added spark and they again headed for the end zone. Zobel grabbed a five-yard pass for a first down, Doug Skeen ran for another first and then Bingman dashed 27 yards to pay dirt. The PAT was incomplete, making the tally 12-0. The Wolverines' late scoring threat, hampered when Jones intercepted a pass and the final score remained 12-0.

Nyssa was penalized a total of 95 yards and Weiser was set back 65 yards on miscues.

OVERSET From Krazy Day SECTION

Steve Petrie: "My father can hold up an auto with one hand."
Friend: "He must be very strong."
Steve: "No, he's a cop!"

Fred Bracken: "I saw something last night I'll never get over."
Margaret: "What was that?"
Fred: "The moon."

Ruth Briehl: "What are all of Bullard's chickens doing in the street this morning?"

Donna Schoen: "They heard Art Colby was going to lay a sidewalk and they wanted to see how it was done."

Earl Jennings: "Didn't I tell you that when a dog wags his tail he's friendly."
John Douglas: "Yes, but he was barking and wagging his tail at the same time."
Earl: "Well, what's that got to do with it?"
John: "I didn't know which end to believe."

Mr. Seward called on Pete Morgan. "Tell me what you know about George Washington. Was he a soldier or sailor?"
"I think he was a soldier," replied Pete.

"Why do you think he was a soldier?"

"I saw a picture of him when he crossed the Delaware and any sailor knows enough not to stand up in a rowboat."

Willie McKinney: "Bob! Bob! Wake up! I just heard a mouse squeak."
Bob: "What do you want me to do... get up and oil it?"

"Ken," said Marian Danford, "Why did you tear the back part out of my new book?"

"Excuse me, dear," he answered, "The part you speak of was labeled 'appendix' and I took it out without thinking."

Judge Sallee: "Now tell me, why did you steal that purse?"

Prisoner: "Your honor, I was not feeling well and I thought the change would do me good."

Lloyd Mackrill: "How much are these tomatoes?"

Farmer: "Forty cents a pound."
Lloyd: "Did you raise them yourself?"

Farmer: "Yes, sir, I certainly did. They were only thirty-five cents yesterday."

MAURICE COREY, retired printer, displays two cucumbers measuring 11½ and 11¼ inches in length which he grew in his garden along with many other food products. The unusual thing about the cukes is that they were solid, still green and had not begun to turn yellow despite their huge size. He is shown standing in front of 14-foot high castor bean plants at his home on East Enterprise avenue. Corey spent 50 years in the printing business as an all-around printer. He began working at the Journal office in the spring of 1949, working steady there until August, 1953, and has worked part-time since. In addition to gardening, Maury spends much of his time working with his stamp and rock collection hobbies. He also spends many hours fishing, as Snake river is right at his back door.

Small Boy: "Come quick, Mr. Policeman! There's a man been fighting my father for half an hour."
Chief Love: "Why didn't you call me before?"

Small Boy: "Oh, 'cause my father was gettin' the best of it until a minute ago."

Wednesday League Lists Second Week Bowling Standings

Wednesday league bowling teams met last week at Bye Lanes in Ontario for their second session of play. Palomino cafe team won six games and lost two; Ontario Auto Parts, 5-3; Malheur Memorial hospital, 5-3; Polar Bear, 4-4; Leuck's Signs, 3-5 and the team which has no sponsor won one and lost seven games.

Polar Bear was high team single game winner with 882 pins; Palomino cafe was high team for three-game series with 2483 counters.

High individual single game winner was Nadine Jackson with a score of 159 and Pauline Galloway was high for three-game series with 427 points.

Two eagles were soaring over the desert when a jet-propelled plane sped by them, its exhaust spouting flame and smoke. As it went out of sight, one of the eagles remarked:

"That bird was really in a hurry."
"You'd be in a hurry, too," replied the other, "if your tail was on fire!"

Antelopes Lose Friday Contest By Close Margin

Adrian lost a heart-breaker to Fruitland's Grizzlies Friday evening on the Antelopes' home field by one point, 13-14.

Scoring was started by Adrian with a 15-yard touchdown pass from Darryl Seuell to Wayne Sparks. Fruitland scored next on a TD pass and made the conversion to give them a 7-6 lead at halftime.

Antelope Pat Zamora then ran 30 yards for the second Adrian score, giving the Oregon team a 13-7 lead. Sager of Fruitland turned on the steam to tie the score and converted to give the Grizzlies a 14-13 lead and the contest.

The Antelopes will meet Marsing Friday evening on the undefeated Huskies home ground.

Joe Bianco of the Oregonian was looking, not too hard, for a job.

"I can get you a job digging potatoes," suggested John Schenk. "Why don't you get the man that planted them?" asked Joe. "He knows where he hid them."
