Knife and Fork Club Members to Hear Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi

Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi

Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi will be guest speaker when Knife and Fork club members meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26, at East Side cafe in Ontario, it was announced by Ernest Adams, president.

Dr. Nyaradi is the only man to ever beat the Russians out of anything in a financial way—some $130 million at the close of World War II—and has just returned from an investigation trip to Europe, Adams stated.

Following the war, Nyaradi spent seven months in Moscow, in contact and conference with Stalin's henchmen over a reparations claim the Soviet had unfairly levied on Hungary. Day after day, the doctor argued against the Soviet ministers, including Molotov. Finally the claim was reduced to approximately one-fourth its original amount.

In this country, the doctor continues to fight the Russian encroachment of communism. He has authored articles revealing the Russian plans for leading magazines. He is also author of the book "My Ringside Seat in Moscow," published in 1952.
