A Cattle Scratcher-Oiler

That Gives Year-Around Control of Profit-Taking Livestock Insect Pests!

EXCLUSIVE DESIGN . . .

- OIL (Carrying the Applicable Insecticide) IS WICKED from the reservoir—not to one, but to three rubbing elements.
- The TROUBLE-FREE WICK METHOD is the only method which insures the desired amount of oil on the rubbing elements at all times—without excessive waste of insecticide or oil.
- CANVAS RUBBING ELEMENT—Arched design incorporating heavy rubbing element insures that the canvas will snugly take the back-line contour of all-sized cattle.
- ROPE RUBBING ELEMENT—Main Member. This Rubbing Element and the one following carry insecticide to all structural members of the oiler, resulting in high-level insect control.
- ROPE RUBBING ELEMENT—"A" Frame Member.
- SERRIATED CURRY BARS—Induce cattle to use oiler, grooms cattle, removes excess hair and improves market appearance.
- HEAVY GAUGE GALVANIZED RESERVOIR—Full 5-gallon capacity furnishes oil supply that will last 4 to 5 weeks.
- NO MOVING PARTS—No costly repair or replacement parts costs as there are no moving parts to wear out.
- HEAVY STEEL CONSTRUCTION—Cattle cannot break the C & C Cattle Scratcher-Oiler. Satisfaction Money-Back Guarantee.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? (The wonder would be if you settled for anything less—once you get your hands on one at your Chevrolet dealer's!)
