Annual 'Krazy Day' Set for Sept. 22 With Plans for Greater Participation, More Merriment, Additional Prizes

Journal Will Again Publish Special Edition With Mailings Blanketing Entire Trade Area

"DOG DAYS" are over for this summer but that won't keep area people from being LOCO in Nyssa on Saturday, Sept. 22, according to Houston Wilson of the sponsoring chamber of commerce committee.

That date has been set for the annual K-R-A-Z-Y Daze promotion and, according to plans being made, will be even CRAZIER than ever, Wilson said.

Reapportionment Plan Supporters Seek Fund Aid

Malheur county State Representative Emil A. Stunz in a talk to Nyssa Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon reported the latest news on the legislative reapportionment measure which will be on the ballot at the general election. This measure would provide fairer legislative representation for Eastern Oregon.

Stunz stated that he had just talked by telephone with State Representative George Annala of Hood River who is secretary of the Citizens Committee for Representative Government. Annala said that a statewide finance committee is being formed and he estimated that approximately $25,000 will be required to promote passage of the measure.

The committee has initiated a survey to determine how the money collected can best be spent to promote passage of the reapportionment measure.

Stunz stated that a Malheur county finance committee would be formed in the near future and that all persons interested in working for and donating to this project should contact Ed Oakes of Ontario, who, along with Stunz, was a Malheur county co-chairman of the successful drive to obtain petitions to place the reapportionment measure on the ballot.

Stunz reminded members that Oct. 6 is the last day which they can register to vote in the general election if they are not now properly registered.

Schools at Nyssa Reflect Increase With 1288 Pupils

Nyssa schools have enrolled a total of 1288 students, Superintendent Walter L. McPartland reported yesterday. This figure reflects a total enrollment of 18 students more than had registered on the second day of school last year.

Following is total enrollment for this year and for the two preceding years:

First grade—1962, 130; 1961, 141; 1960, 133.

Transitional—1962, included in second grade total; 1961, 19; 1960, 22.

Second grade—1962, 116; 1961, 94; 1960, 120.

Third grade—103, 131, 113.

Fourth grade—127, 110, 110.

Fifth grade—113, 105, 117.

Sixth grade—108, 107, 110.

Special class—14 this year, 12 last year with none in previous years.

High Schools Show Increase

Junior high school enrollment includes seventh grade, 112, and eighth grade, 102—a total of 214 as compared with 210 in 1961 and 237 in 1960.

High school enrollment comprises 107 freshmen, 107 sophomores, 62 juniors and 87 seniors, making a total of 363. The largest increase is reflected in the high school enrollment as in 1961 there were 341 including 116 freshmen, 66 sophomores, 86 juniors and 73 seniors. The enrollment in 1960 was 323.

These enrollments are subject to change within the next few weeks, McPartland said, as families move to and from the Nyssa area.

State Police Report Weekend Fatalities; None in Local Area

Oregon state police report that there were no traffic fatalities or serious injuries in the area over the long Labor Day weekend.

Nationwide, 465 lost their lives as traffic victims, in addition to 21 in boating accidents, 52 by drowning and 90 in miscellaneous mishaps.

Forty died in eight separate accidents with six being killed in each of three crashes.

The toll set an all-time high, being four more than the previous 461 killed in 1951.

School Life Resume Given as Doors Open to Continue Training of Minds

Nyssa area youngsters flocked into the busy workday world of the schoolroom Tuesday, Sept. 4. They came by bus, by car, on bicycles and on foot; some came gladly, some reluctantly; some were imbued with the desire to better their past records; some for more fun. There were those who were pleased with the teacher they had been allotted while others were not so happy for the opposite reason.

Pals of the summer were split up by different room assignments but by now they have found new pals and some disappointments of the first day of school are forgotten.

Some of the more discerning noticed that the lawns were green and the holes worn bare by last year's softball games were ready for another nine-month assault. There were even those who complimented the custodians on brightly polished floors, clean walls and windows.

Some even noticed the new classroom under the north bleachers and that the projection room had been moved to the room under the south bleachers. Some thought the "old jail" looked just as foreboding as ever.

Embark on New Journey

Perhaps the greatest change in the lives of the 1288 students took place in the primary building where little first graders gave up the security of their homes and mothers to embark on a journey into a new world.

Quite a few bravely took over like old troopers and soon the more timid will respond to the kind and understanding "New Mother," the first grade teacher. They will then be on their way to enjoy the 12 years of education provided for them by the people of Nyssa community.

Next, consider the lowly freshmen. Last year in junior high they "ruled the roost." Little seventh graders looked up to them almost reverently. Now they are "frosh," lowly neophyte on the pecking order of high school society. However, there are some compensations. The girls are now right up there among the heroes, whom they worshipped from afar last year.

Seniors Rule as Kings, Queens

At the top, among seniors we find a new crop of "Kings and Queens." Sedate seniors, with an ultimate goal in sight, they can almost smell that sheepskin. Twelve years ago they were in the same straggle world of the little first graders of today.

Just one more year and a big new world will open for them again. Gone will be the protective guiding custody of home and the public school. Responsibilities of adult life will engulf them and
