Nyssa FFA Members Attend Exposition, Enter Competition

Nyssa FFA chapter entered competition in the dairy judging contest at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland last Saturday.

Exact placing of the team, consisting of Dean Peterson, Klair Simpson and Doug Patterson, is not known as yet, according to Carl Devin, vo-ag instructor.

Originally it was stated that the Nyssa group placed 38th, but an error in the tabulation was discovered which accounted for 100 points, which should make their score considerably higher.

Also attending the Pacific International were Mark Morton who placed third in the dairy holders contest and Delores Morris and Linda Cleaver who attended as alternates. Mr. and Mrs. Devin escorted the group.

The delegates visited the Mary Hill museum and The Dalles dam enroute to Portland. Besides taking in the PI, they visited the Portland zoo and were able to see Rosie's new baby elephant. They also saw the Portland water front and visited Timberline lodge on Mt. Hood on their trip home.

INFANT SON BORN OCT. 16 TO G. STEPHENS COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stephens of Oakland, Calif., are parents of a 9-pound, 4-ounce son born Oct. 16 in an Oakland hospital. The infant has been named Lonnie Clyde and joins a sister, Teresa, and a brother, Lester in the home.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Day of Adrian.

Membership Receipt Good for Community Concert Admission

The first Community concert of the season is scheduled at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Ontario high school auditorium with Andree Juliette Brun, young French pianist, as guest artist.

Mrs. Gene Chester, chairman of the Nyssa membership drive, has asked the Journal to announce that if members do not have tickets for the concert, they may use their membership receipt for admission purposes.

If there are members who, for any reason, do not intend to attend the concert, they are asked to contact Mrs. Chester, as she has a waiting list of persons desiring to become members.

Area Toastmistress Club Holds Debate On Gambling Issue

Theme for the evening was "Positive or Negative" when Treasure Valley Toastmistress club members met Oct. 19 in the Parma IOOF hall. Purpose of the program topic, "Should Idaho Have Local Option Gaming or Gambling," was to reach out for the welfare of Idaho through debate.

Toastmistress Carol Hartman was chairman for the debate. Speaking in the affirmative were Jean Mann and Margaret Gough. Talking for the negative side were Ona Tuning and June Smith. Lucille Peterson was guest evaluator for the debate panel.

Other guests at the Friday session were Lois Stubblefield of Parma and Mrs. Roy Hirai of Nyssa.

Ladies of the community, interested in visiting or joining the Toastmistress club, are asked to call Mrs. Don Bates in Nyssa.

VISITORS FROM ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Elgan of Mesa, Ariz., spent several days last week with his father, Jesse Elgan and Mrs. Elgan.
