Initiate New Boat Dock

RED WAGGONER (left) and BILL KOHL were trying out Nyssa's new boat dock Monday when a Journal photographer appeared on the scene. They are members of Nyssa Boat club and two of the men instrumental in getting the new dock on the east shore of the Snake river, just south of the bridge. They said it would be better when the excavated area was extended farther into the river.

McPartland Discusses Increase in Tax Base

Fight to Maintain Present Level

In the meantime rumors, half truths and even information without any basis of fact are circulating around the community. This is not a healthy situation as some teachers, worried about the stability of the program, may decide to look elsewhere.

The experience of the past year would indicate that our schools are in a weaker position than heretofore as a result of the hassle over the budget last summer. A realistic base would preclude a yearly repetition of this struggle and allow the board and administration to work toward the real goals of providing an education for your children.

Results Difficult to Measure As to the second question, "What are we getting for our money?" The education your youngster acquires in the 12 years he or she spends in the Nyssa public schools is difficult to measure. Every year every student takes an achievement test put out by the California Achievement Testing association.

Nationwide averages are established for the achievement of each grade level. The group of sixth graders who took these tests just prior to entering the seventh grade ranked as follows: 25 were below or on the normal score while 87 were above the norm of which 25 percent were at the eighth grade level and 26 percent at the ninth grade level.

"Dollars Are Well Spent" This would indicate that your children are getting a pretty high degree of proficiency from their school work and should be proof that your dollars are being well spent.

On the third question as to comparative costs of the Nyssa system with other systems in the state of Oregon: A year ago last summer an article appeared in the Oregonian and was reprinted in the Gate City Journal which stated that Nyssa ranked among the lowest in the state as to per pupil cost. By taking the amount spent by the schools and dividing it by the enrollment, the per pupil cost is determined.

It has been the intention of this article to persuade you that for the best interests of this community, your vote in favor of granting a realistic base for your schools to operate on in the coming years is necessary.

Sabin Vaccination Drive Starts Nov. 3-4

If anyone is physically unable to attend the clinic, the doctors will make an effort to give them attention in their homes.

No Painful Injections

Each person will be given a small cube of sugar, on which the vaccine has been dropped, and they will merely swallow it. In case of infants too small to do this, they will be spoon-fed by one of the nurses in attendance.

The question of whether type 3 may have caused some cases of polio in adults has been removed. Dr. Luther L. Terry, surgeon general of U.S. Public Health, said, "Of the 38 million doses of oral vaccine given, 12 cases of polio followed but following investigation it was concluded that it was not possible to establish that the vaccine virus caused any of the cases."

Doctors to Be Commended

Not only have the doctors in the area volunteered their services at the clinics, they have done the work necessary in the planning; they have kept the public well-informed through the press, radio and television, and they have paid for large ads to go in area papers answering all questions they have anticipated. They, with the nurses and other volunteer workers, are to be commended for this public service.

CHANDLER CAN HANDLE 'ER

"Back in Washington, D. C., there's a job badly in need of filling by the right man. It's the job of representing us in Congress. You and I simply cannot afford to take another chance on the incumbent. This time we've got to elect a man who understands our problems. And how to solve them. And how to keep us strong and growing. To my mind there's just one man properly qualified to do the job. His name's Bob Chandler. Let's send him to Congress. Chandler can handle 'er!"
