MISS JOLEEN REECE
... New Girls' PE Instructor

Who's Newest Faculty Member?

(From the Nyssa High Bulldog)

It's Miss Joleen Reece, the girls' new physical education instructor. She originally hails from Middleton, Idaho, where she was raised along with two sisters and three brothers. She is the third eldest in her family.

Our only new member of the faculty this year attended Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, majoring in physical education and minoring in history. Miss Reece participated in all organizations affiliated with physical education, including softball, volleyball and basketball. She received her bachelor of arts degree in physical education in June of 1961.

Teaches at Challis, Idaho

Miss Reece then moved to Challis, Idaho, where she had accepted the position of girls' physical education instructor in the Challis school system for one year.

Besides teaching physical education and health in the junior high and high school and being GAA adviser and Pep Club co-adviser with Miss Jeanne Poulton, Miss Reece in her spare time ("What spare time?") enjoys bowling Monday nights with the Signal Gas team. She currently carries an average of 124.

When time allows, Miss Reece helps her parents on their farm near Middleton. Hunting, fishing and hiking are also included in her schedule. Miss Reece finds living in Nyssa at 508 Reece Avenue quite natural, as it is so close to her home town.

She believes Nyssa High to be a good school. "The students are normal and healthy teenagers, and pretty good ones at that!" As for future plans, Miss Reece intends to stay in Nyssa and teach, at least as far as she can predict.
