

City Librarian Reviews New Books Available to Nyssa Reading Public

Librarian Joy Bell reports the following books have recently been added for circulation at Nyssa public library:

ADULT READING:

"Now It Can Be Told" by Leslie R. Groves. The story of the Manhattan project. As the Army engineer in charge of the entire Manhattan project, Leslie Groves had a power and responsibility not exceeded even by General Eisenhower's. Most of his actions and decisions raised howls of anguish and protest from one group or another. This is also a detailed story of the project, which for security reasons has never before been possible to tell in full.

"A Room of One's Own" by Virginia Woolf. Women—asks Mrs. Woolf—what is the truth about their nature? Why have men always had power and wealth and influence and fame—while women had nothing but children? Mrs. Woolf speaks for her sex with as much fancy as logic, as much wit as knowledge and with the imagination of a true novelist.

"The Split-Level Trap" by Richard E. Gordon, M.D., Ph.D. Working with the cooperation of Columbia university and the states of New Jersey and New York, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon completed one of the most searching analyses of American suburban life ever attempted. But the Gordons went further—they found which suburbanites are most likely to have emotional problems, and they found that these suburbanites—under stress can be helped—before they reach the point of breakdown.

"Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson. The author is a biologist who became so concerned with this situation that she spent 4 1/2 years gathering data from all over America, and from other parts of the world, on the effects of the pesticides now in general use. The facts, as set forth in this book, are appalling.

"Gifts From the Garden" by Suzanne James. This book is unique because it is the only one which tells how to use the bounty from home gardens in making appealing gifts. You don't need a lot of plants—a few strands of ivy can be the basis for an Ivy Christmas tree, ivy wreath and other interesting articles. You don't need much skill—you do need this book.

"Gettysburg" by Stephen Longstreet. This could have been a story of Italy or Korea, of France or Germany. The author shows the violence and tenderness, the deep compulsions and fears that overcome the "people" when they are involved in a great catastrophe. Battles are neither dates nor places on a map. They are the living people who were there, and the characters that a novelist recreates from them.

"David—Warrior and King" by Frank G. Slaughter. Here is the thrilling drama of "the sweetest singer of all Israel," who was anointed by the Prophet Samuel and grew up to unite the many nations of Israel into one kingdom of unparalleled glory and splendor. The reader's interest is at once caught by the turbulent events that led from David's slaying of the Philistine giant Goliath to his persecution by King Saul.

"Since You Ask Me" by Ann Landers. The nation's most widely syndicated advice columnist—read by more than 20 million people—offers expert, down-to-earth counsel on everyday problems of love, home, marriage and parenthood.

"Seven Days in May" by Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey II. Ordinarily Colonel Martin J. Casey of the Marines faced Sunday duty in the Pentagon with a kind of sunny resignation. But this morning a vague uneasiness accompanied him as he approached his duties as director of research and planning for the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Casey couldn't diagnose it. Certainly there were plenty of possible causes. The country was in a sullen mood—apprehensive over the nuclear disarmament treaty, angered by the prolonged missile strike, worried about unemployment and inflation, not quite sure of the man in the White House.

JUNIOR BOOKS:

"The Boys' Book of Radio and Electronics" by Alfred Morgan. This book contains information about the nature of electricity, electronic circuits, electron tubes, transistors, radio communications, amplifiers and electromagnetic waves. All the projects can be done at home and suppliers of materials are cited throughout.

"The Great Constitution" by Henry Steele Commager.

"Men of Science and Invention." An American Heritage series.

"Birth of a Rocket" by Erik Bergaust. This book goes into more detail on the actual building of rockets, taking the reader inside the giant vehicles. The reader is left with an informative and impressive picture of the complex scientific and technological processes by which these amazing giants of speed and power are born.

"The Sign Painting Course" by E. C. Matthews. The author's aim is to teach you commercial sign painting and sign building as it is being done today in leading shops all over the country. Shows latest methods of doing truck lettering, office doors, wood letters, reflecting signs, plastics, sprayed signs, gold leaf, silk screen process, modern alphabets, etc. It includes money-making business information.

Supt. W. McPartland Discusses Expenses Of Athletic Program

Continued from Page 1) track and baseball seasons or 11 weeks. This averages out at $1.10 per hour for the time put in by this coach. About 35 students turn out for this sport, but due to the fact that we have only the two courts furnished by the city, it is difficult to keep this many players interested.

Another $50 is paid by the district to a coach of basketball who conducts a class for 50 fifth and sixth grade students on a Saturday program.

200 Students Benefit
The total salary outlay for coaches in the high school is $2650. This amount of money provides training for 252 students in six different sports. Some of these boys participate in three or even four sports, so it is possible that about 200 different students are taken care of for this amount of money.

The junior high program should be added to the above high school costs as it is a part of the overall athletic program. The junior high coaches receive a total of $680 for football, basketball, baseball and track. One hundred and forty lads are given training in these sports by the junior high coaches.

So we have approximately 400 students receiving coaching instruction for a total of $3330 for all extra-curricular sports.

Board Allocates $1400

In addition to the $3330 paid out in salaries the school board has allocated $1400 in past years to aid the student body program.

The only income the athletic department has is from football and basketball receipts. These two sports pay for all the expenses of baseball, track, wrestling and tennis. The recent court case demonstrated that the athletic department cannot afford to buy inferior equipment, so football is expensive insofar as equipment is concerned.

Exclusive of the cost of buildings, the taxpayers foot the bill for athletics to the tune of $4730. This represents one-half of one mill of the individual taxpayer's money for this program. Weigh this amount of money against the fact that these boys are given valuable training, plus the fact that they are not roaming the streets or the countryside during this time and see if you still think the athletic program is too expensive.

Miss Sharen Jaques, Gary Smith Wed In Caldwell Methodist Church Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lee Smith

The First Methodist church in Caldwell, Idaho, was the scene of an 8 o'clock evening ceremony uniting Miss Sharen Kay Jaques and Gary Lee Smith.

In the presence of 200 invited guests, the Dec. 14 double-ring rites were performed by the Rev. Harold Nye, pastor of the church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jaques, former Nyssans, of Caldwell. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith of Adrian.

White chrysanthemums and paradise blue ribbon bows provided the altar setting, while organist was Mrs. Harold Nye. Soloist was Mark Moncur who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Tom Jayo.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Jaques wore a floor-length gown of taffeta. A wide band of sequin-trimmed chantilly lace formed the complete bodice, fashioned with long sleeves and square neckline, finished with scalloped design. Diamond-shaped inserts of the scallop of chantilly lace were repeated in the skirt across the front and up the side back. The center back of the skirt was adorned with a petal bow.

Her elbow-length veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white orchid atop a silver ball containing pink rose buds.

Miss Dianne Maulding attended as maid of honor, while Mrs. Donald Holmes of Caldwell was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Donald Bullard and Mrs. Farrell Jones. Their identical gowns were of paradise blue velvet and they carried balls of white chrysanthemums.

Fred Jensen of Ontario served as best man, while ushers were Gary Jaques of Caldwell, Bruce Taylor of Stead Air Force base in Nevada, Duane Gerdes of Caldwell and Dean Lancaster of Nyssa.

Ringbearer was Curtis Moncur. Linda Williams and Lynn Beguhl, attired in white brocade frocks with paradise blue cummerbunds, lighted the tapers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jaques wore a dress of beige brocade with ranch-mink trim. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue afternoon dress. Both wore orchid corsages.

A four-tier wedding cake, trimmed with pink rose buds, centered the refreshment table at a reception following the ceremony. Assisting with serving were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Donald J. Taylor and Mrs. T. E. Williams; Mrs. Emil Beguhl, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Fay Collins.

Attending the gift table were Diane Williams, Diane McGarvin and Sharon Woods. Mrs. Edward Adler was in charge of registering guests.

The new Mrs. Smith is a 1960 graduate of Nyssa high school, attended University of Oregon and is presently employed in the office of J. R. Simplot company. The bridegroom was graduated in 1957 from Adrian high school, served three years in the army and is an employee of Amalgamated Sugar company. They are at home at 17 North Ninth street in Nyssa.

Among out-of-state guests were Mrs. Donald J. Taylor and Bruce of Stead Air Force base, Nevada.

Special Meeting Held By Job's Daughters; State Officer Visits

International Order of Job's Daughters, bethel 33, held a special meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 18, with Honored Queen Kathleen McPartland presiding.

Escorted were Jan Rinehart, Dianne Maulding and Mary Kay Olsen, past honored queens; Mrs. Julia Gilmer, grand guardian of the state of Oregon; Dr. L. A. Maulding, past associate grand guardian; Karen Stoneberg, grand second messenger; Mrs. Sam Tyson of Parma, past grand guardian of the state of Idaho; Myrtle Alexander and Roy Holmes, guardian and associate guardian of bethel 33.

Exemplification of initiation was performed for Mrs. Gilmer with Christie Nelson and Carol Tracy as courtesy candidates.

Librarian's report was entitled "Building a Home."

Honored Queen Kathleen presented Mrs. Gilmer a gift from the bethel and Mrs. Gilmer gave Kathleen a gift of perfume and a ceramic Bible.

Refreshments of cake, punch and coffee were served. A dinner sponsored by the Eastern Star chapter preceded the meeting.

Delta Kappa Gamma Party Held in Vale

Upsilon chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Dec. 14 at the home of June Leafgren in Vale for its annual Christmas party.

Following a short business session, the group sang carols and a gift exchange was held. Snapshots were taken for the scrapbook.

Miss Margery Nihart was presented a past president's pin. In addition to Miss Nihart, other Nyssans attending the party were Mrs. Eva Chadwick, Mrs. Frances Bates, Mrs. Virginia Steffens, Mrs. Bonita Witly and Miss Marie Coate.

Refreshments were served by Vale members of the organization.

Host Early Breakfast

Mr. and Mrs. Chick Quinowski entertained New Year's day with 1:30 a.m. breakfast for Messrs. and Mrs. Gene DeMinck, Bob Wilson, David Sarazin, Bill Wahler, Wilton Jackson, Chuck Smith and Ray Larson.

Miss Dolores Duus Is Bride-Elect Of Gary Halcom

MISS DOLORES DUUS

The recent engagement of Miss Dolores Duus and Gary Halcom is announced by her father, V. W. Duus of Nyssa. Her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Halcom of Ontario.

Miss Duus is a graduate of Nyssa high school and Eastern Oregon college. She is presently teaching in the Portland public schools. Halcom was graduated from Ontario high school, attended Boise Junior college and is now a student at the University of Oregon.

No definite wedding date has been set.

New Year's eve dinner guests in the Owen Gann home were Mr. and Mrs. John Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Storm, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Looney.

New books going into circulation Saturday, Jan. 5, at Malheur county library include the following:

"How to Have More Money to Spend" by B. J. Blaustein. From long experience in credit banking the author gives specific advice for living on your income, managing your debts and ultimately getting rid of them.

"The Retirement Handbook" by Joseph C. Buckley. An enlarged edition of a practical guide includes the latest social security provisions, recommendations of the White House Conference on Aging and information on new housing provisions.

"Wealth and Power" by Gabriel Kalko. A provocative economic analysis which contradicts the theories of Kuznets, Galbraith and Riesman.

"Blackfeet and Buffalo" by James Willard Schultz. Memories of life among the Indians.

"The Cuban Invasion" by Karl E. Meyer. An objective account of the Cuban invasion using firsthand experience, official papers and magazine articles as a basis for conclusion.

"The Nuremberg Trial" by Joe J. Heydecker. A history of Nazi Germany as revealed through the testimony at Nuremberg.

"Death Row Chaplain" by Byron Eshelman. An eyewitness account of life on Death Row, executions of the condemned and a searching analysis of capital punishment, by the chaplain at San Quentin state prison.

"The Trial of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln" by Homer Croy. An account of Mary Todd Lincoln's sanity trial.

"The Great Philosophers" by Karl Jaspers. The author draws on his 40 years' experience as a philosophy teacher, his deep fund of knowledge and his powers of analysis to lead the general philosophical reader and student to a direct confrontation with the ideas of seven great philosophers who have determined the history of men through either their personal example or their seminal thought.

"Drugs, Medicines and Man" by Harold Burn. A layman's guide to the current use of drugs and medicines in the treatment of an assortment of ills, with some perspective on past history and possible future developments.

"Two in the Far North" by Margaret E. Murie. Chronicle of the author's adventures on the Alaskan frontier as a child and a young woman.

"The Furniture Doctor" by George Grotz. Practical information about the care, repair and refinishing of furniture.

"The Country of Marriage" by Jon Cleary. A novel in which a former World War II pilot now happily married in a London suburb to the girl he brought back from Sydney, has his quiet life upset by the arrival of his wealthy father-in-law.

"Call Lady Purbeck" by Hilda Lewis. A biographical novel that reports sympathetically the tribulations of Frances Coke, daughter of England's ambitious chief justice, who forced her to marry the half-mad brother of the notorious Duke of Buckingham.
