

Mary Evans Is Girl of the Month

Mary Evans is Girls' League Girl of the Month for February.

Her election was announced at the pep assembly Friday, Feb. 1. Girls' League president Wilma Williamson presented the new Girl of the Month with a carnation, symbolizing friendship, the underlying bond of Girls' League.

Mary was elected on the basis of her service to school, her grades, her personality, neatness, courtesy and character.

Pep and school spirit have much to do with service to school. Mary has been a cheerleader for all four years of high school. She is active in school organizations and is a member of the Bulldog staff.

Farm Bureau Slates Dinner This Evening

A dinner sponsored by the Nyssa Farm Bureau will be held this evening at 7:30 in Brownie's cafe, according to officers of the organization.

Howard Fujii of Salem will be speaker of the evening.

Members planning to attend the dinner should contact Brownie's for reservations in order that sufficient food may be prepared.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Wheeler visited Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gann.

State Legislators Seek Fair Method to Assess Fire Protection Costs

An individual owning grazing land within a fire district having such a catastrophic fire is severely penalized. Several of us are attempting to work out a program in conjunction with the state fire marshal, the state forester, the various fire protection associations and timber and grazing interests to provide that a portion of the fees necessary for the protection of the land be paid by the general fund.

Bill to Provide Fee Limit

Testimony has proved that 34 percent of the fires nationwide are man-caused, attributable primarily to recreation seekers, including hunters, fishermen, campers and Sunday drivers. We hope to present a bill in the near future providing for a fee limit on grazing lands much like that of the Zone 1 lands and have the balance of the fire protection costs assumed by the general fund.

The Natural Resources committee will introduce a bill which will control sub-dividers and sub-divisions within the state of Oregon. This bill will provide for a "full disclosure" of all pertinent information with regard to the sub-division. A sub-divider must submit to the real estate commissioner of the state of Oregon information pertaining to the type of land within the sub-division, the climate, water available, rainfall conditions, soil conditions and proximity to cities.

Following this the real estate commissioner will provide to each prospective purchaser a copy of this disclosure allowing everyone unbiased information concerning the true qualities of the land available.

Submit "Price Tag" Bill

Senator Yturri and I have introduced a bill called "price tag" legislation. This bill, if passed, would provide that all measures shall have an estimate of the cost upon the bill so that every legislator will know exactly the amount of money needed should such measure pass. This would correct such problems as arose during the last session, as House Bill 1754.

This bill provided that children of unemployed parents could be added to the aid to dependent children's fund, resulting in an increase of many cases to the welfare rolls. The bill did not go to the Ways and Means committee, as it should have, and, therefore, was not considered to have fiscal implications. The bill passed the House with only one dissenting vote at a time when all members of the Ways and Means committee were excused.

Had "price tag" legislation been

Ruth Page Chicago Opera Ballet Sets Community Concert Program Feb. 14

Community concert patrons of the area will be given an opportunity of seeing the Ruth Page Chicago Opera Ballet at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 14, at the Ontario high school auditorium.

The opera has come to be recognized at home and abroad as one of the world's great companies. Now in its sixth sold-out season, the company features internationally acclaimed stars, exciting young personalities as soloists and a brilliant corps de ballet with eye-filling costumes and decors to match.

Success of the company is directly accredited to Ruth Page whose skill in translating opera story into ballet is unique in the dance field. Her genius and the highly gifted artists who project her ideas add up to an occasion that is refreshing, exciting and memorable always.

Eastern Legislators Meet

At my request eastern Oregon legislators met for an evening of social and business activity. The event was well attended and two very important accomplishments resulted.

First, all 14 members of the eastern Oregon delegation got to know each other on a first-name basis. Secondly, we discussed legislation that might be introduced, in which we had mutual interests. Although no formal organization was attempted, I am sure that we all have a better understanding of the problems each individually faces and will result in cooperation regardless of party.

This is exceedingly important to our area, since there are fewer eastern Oregon legislators during this session than in many sessions past.

Pay Increase Becomes Law

This week the Senate passed the Legislative Pay Raise bill by a vote of 17 to 12, indicating a definite reluctance on the part of the Senate to adopt this extravagant measure by any great majority. On Wednesday the governor signed the bill, which now becomes law.

I am sure the voters of the state of Oregon will not forget the legislative pay increase. Although the battle was lost in Salem to make this a reasonable raise, the war will be fought during the next election. I am convinced the memories of the voters of Oregon will not be dimmed by the passage of time.

I am attempting to send specific bills to interested people in Harney and Malheur counties for the purpose of comment and suggestions. I hope that you will contact me concerning legislation which vitally affects you.

Vernon Flock Speaks On Teenage Crime

(From the Nyssa High Bulldog)

Vernon Flock, Malheur County juvenile officer, talked to the modern problems classes on youth and crime. He revealed local and governmental figures on juvenile delinquency.

He stressed the fact that more must be done to prevent crime from happening. Many times it was the adult's delinquency that caused teens to rebel and get into trouble.

The financial aspect of crime was told the group by Flock. He stated that few people realized that it took $10,000 to cover court costs for one major crime.

Flock stated that 41 percent of the teenagers' crimes in Malheur County resulted from stealing. In the Nyssa area the biggest problem was alcohol. A question and answer period followed.

Throughout the year, the modern problems class hears various speakers. Flock is the sixth speaker to talk to the class.

RETURNS TO IDAHO FALLS

Mrs. Ida Fisher left Tuesday for her home in Idaho Falls following a two-week stay with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy O'Neil and Brent O'Neil is new manager of Bestway Building center in Nyssa. Mrs. Fisher assisted the family in getting settled in their home at 417 North Eighth street.

Mrs. Lorin Saunders and children of Boise spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Elwood Flinders and Gail.

Weather, Icy Roads Curtail Attendance At Progress Revue

John Palmer, manager of Farmers Equipment company in Nyssa said, "Had we tried we could not have picked a worse day than was Thursday for our Case Progress Revue."

He said the five-inch snow on the ground, icy roads over all the county and the announcement in the Journal being mailed only that day kept the crowd down to about 100 people. He said he considered this extremely good under the circumstances and those in attendance seemed to enjoy themselves.

Announced prize winners were A. W. Hendricks, Ruth Draper, Mrs. Brig Olsen, Delores Morris, Owen Froerer, all of Nyssa, and Lawrence Cleverly, Moses Lake, Wash.
