Coordinator Seeks Military Personnel Surviving 1941 Attack

According to Edward A. Davis, eastern Oregon coordinator, a search is under way for those who are military survivors of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor.

Inquiries should be directed to Davis at 1102 S.W. Goodwin Place, Pendleton. The writer should state with which ship or station he was attached.

Members of any of the armed forces who were in the Pearl Harbor area at the time of the attack are eligible to join the Pearl Harbor Survivors association, a nationwide organization, Davis concluded.

Advertising Man

Advertising is simply a message reaching many people and telling them why they should buy something you have to sell. It helps you make a sale. It helps them make a purchase. Just as it pays to advertise, it pays to be advertised at. Whether you are an individual trying to sell your own home, the real estate man who does it for you, or the maker of a million autos, you are almost bound to use some kind of advertising. There are many kinds, of course. And many ways to use them. Interesting and dull. Informative and mystifying. Entertaining and simply silly. Just as there are many kinds of advertisers. When you advertise, do it well. For the job advertising has to do is vital . . . always to one person's plans, often to the welfare of thousands.
