OSU Maps Federal Lands in Oregon; Malheur County Leads at 74 Percent

The 51 percent of the land in Oregon that is owned by the federal government has been charted on a first-of-its-kind map for the state by an Oregon State university graduate student in the Department of Natural Resources.

Twenty-one federal agencies own 31,915,902 acres of Oregon's 61,641,600-acre total, the study notes. County percentages range from 74 percent in Malheur and Deschutes counties to 1 percent in Clatsop county.

William B. Carolan made the study under the direction of Dr. Richard M. Highsmith, professor of natural resources and geography.

One of First Studies

On the map prepared by Carolan, the location and distribution of federal land in Oregon is pinpointed by agency. It is one of the first studies that brings together data on federal lands in Oregon.

The Bureau of Land Management owns the most acres in Oregon, 15,937,354, followed closely by the U. S. Forest Service with 15,001,833 acres. Together, they have about 93 percent of the federal land in Oregon.

Other federal agencies that have substantial acreage in Oregon include Fish and Wildlife Service, 444,024 acres; Bureau of Reclamation, 173,447; National Park Service, 160,876; Navy, 98,645; Corps of Engineers, 59,472.

The percentage of land owned by federal agencies by county includes:

Baker county, 48 percent; Benton, 17; Clackamas, 50; Clatsop, 1; Columbia, 3; Coos, 24; Crook, 49; Curry, 65; Deschutes, 74; Douglas, 51; Gilliam, 5; Grant, 59; Harney, 73; Hood River, 62; Jackson, 51; Jefferson, 26; Josephine, 68; Klamath, 58; Lake, 72.

Lane, 59 percent; Lincoln, 31; Linn, 38; Malheur, 74; Marion, 31; Morrow, 22; Multnomah, 27; Polk, 9; Sherman, 9; Tillamook, 20; Umatilla, 22; Union, 48; Wallowa, 57; Wasco, 16; Washington, 2; Wheeler, 23; Yamhill, 15 percent.
