Auxiliary Leaders To Attend LDS Two-Day Session

Three prominent auxiliary organization leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon), Salt Lake City, will attend quarterly conference of the Nyssa stake Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 23-24 in Nyssa.

They are Bertrand Childs, a member of the Sunday School General board; Verl F. Scott and Gladys D. Wright, representing Young Men's and Young Women's Mutual Improvement associations of the church.

General sessions of the conference will be conducted Sunday at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. by Stake President Dehlin A. Erickson of Nyssa and Ontario.

Visitors are welcome to attend these meetings in the stake building on Alberta avenue in Nyssa.

Elder Childs is an engineer with Pacific States Cast Iron Pipe company. He is also a former school teacher and seminary principal. He has held numerous responsible positions in the auxiliaries of the church.

Elder Scott is business manager of the Improvement Era, the magazine published by MIA. He was a missionary in the western states and has served many years in the army and army reserve.

Mrs. Wright has served the YWMA for a total of 32 years in ward, stake and general board activities. She has done Red Cross work in polio and worked as a nurse aide in the hospital.

Special meetings for Sunday school and MIA leaders will be held Saturday.

Adrian Community Church Lists Activities

Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24, there will be a special 3 o'clock service at the Adrian Community church for installation of the new pastor, the Rev. Elmer Rosenkild. Ministers and elders from other churches in the Presbytery will be present to take part in the service. Laymen of the church are urged to attend.

The Rev. and Mrs. Rosenkild will hold open house at the parsonage following the service and refreshments will be served.

Women's Association Meets

Women's association of the church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Wesley Piercy. Mrs. R. D. McKinley had charge of the meeting. Roll call was answered by the number of friendship calls made during the past month.

Mrs. Marie Moore led devotionals. Mrs. M. L. Kurtz reported on Harold and Polly Kurtz' progress in securing a plane for their missionary work in Ethiopia.

Plans were made for a meal for the church ladies will serve during "God's Acre Sale" in December. The women divided two boxes of sewing and mending work to be done for Malheur Memorial hospital in Nyssa.

Mariners Sponsor Dinner

A potluck dinner, sponsored by Friendship Mariners, was served Sunday in the church basement and was well attended. The Rev. and Mrs. Rosenkild were honored guests. A short business meeting was conducted by M. L. Kurtz following the dinner hour. Mrs. Lynn Hurst led devotionals.

It was decided to send a Christmas box to patients in the hospital at Pendleton again this year. Mr. and Mrs. John Fahrenbruch had charge of the program and all in attendance filled out blanks giving their address, number of children, occupation and hobbies. These were given to the Rev. Rosenkild. Short talks were given by Al Thompson and Kurtz.

Methodists Honored At Fellowship Dinner

Cornstalks and pumpkins decorated the Methodist church social hall Nov. 13 when more than 50 persons met for the fellowship potluck dinner.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. W. Foster, Mrs. Raymond Sager and Mrs. Oscar Bratton who provided birthday cake. Arrangements of bronze and yellow mums from the Cheldelin garden centered the tables.

Gary Robbins and Ellen Piercy were honorees celebrating November anniversaries. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sager of Ontario.

Mrs. Merildean Robbins was in charge of the program. Musical selections included accordion duets by Marilu Wilson and Ellen Piercy, piano duets by Sherrill Jean Robbins and Nancy Leavitt and a baritone horn solo by Roy Evans. Mrs. Sherman Wilson read a Thanksgiving poem.

"The True Story of John Smith" was enacted with Mrs. Bill Wilson serving as narrator. Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman who recently moved to Ontario were presented with gifts in recognition of their active association with the church. Their daughter, Mrs. Clayton Wilson and children of Payette were also present.

DID YOU KNOW?

By Elementary School Faculty Members . . . That during the week of Nov. 4-8, there were 563 parent-teacher conferences held in the Nyssa elementary school?

A total of 94 scheduled conferences were not completed; however, of this total, 72 were for children of Spanish-speaking parents.

The elementary school faculty considers this a commendable record and wishes to express its appreciation to parents for their cooperation and receptiveness in this endeavor. We feel that this personal contact between teacher and parent on behalf of a particular child is invaluable for building understandings and appreciations.

Approval of the 1964 budget and election of four council members will be on the business agenda.

A special showing of the movie, "The Uncommitted," will be included on the evening program.

Pastor Milbrath has also announced special Thanksgiving day services at 10 o'clock with sermon theme to be "Thanksgiving Is Thanksgiving." A special offering taken this Thursday will be used for the lot repayment, Pastor Milbrath said.

Music will be provided by Faith women's choir.

Most Legislators Back Governor Hatfield's Budget-Cutting Plan

Despite the desire of some legislators to introduce new tax measures and demand that they make budget cuts, the Oregon legislature as a whole is supporting Governor Mark Hatfield's budget-cutting recommendations as outlined in his address at the opening session.

Hatfield requested legislative support in two principal areas: (1) authority to cut basic school support and (2) the enactment of a speed-up of income tax payments by employers. The House gave him the needed measures after considerable debate in joint ways and means committee and on the floor, but not without legislative guidelines.

The first of these guidelines prohibits cuts in basic school funds below the level that other budgets must be cut to meet the emergency unless urgent needs in state institutions and welfare should require greater cuts, and unless higher education needs would fall below the consistency level of public schools.

Another guideline provides that if revenue income exceeds expectations, returns to basic school must be labeled for property tax relief. Members felt these restrictions were needed to protect the constitutionality of the bill.

The bill to speed-up payments to the state of income taxes withheld by employers will add $12 million to the General Fund budget. This bill will require employers who now report in excess of $100 in state withholding taxes quarterly to report them monthly beginning April of next year.

It is the same one-shot measure included in the defeated tax package with one exception; it becomes effective in April 1964 rather than 1965.

The bill, however, will reduce the amount of loan money available to Oregon industry and others by $72 million, since deposits usually generate six times the funds available for lending according to recent testimony by bankers and investment people.

Reason for an earlier effective date was to earn interest on the extra $12 million per year. The $72 million in circulation, however, might have proved more fruitful to the state in the long run.

The Senate has passed this bill and is also expected to give the governor the allotment authority.

Meanwhile the House will spend the remainder of the session examining a general sales tax, cigarette tax and four other new tax bills introduced by the majority of its taxation committee.

These bills include an increased tax on domestic insurance companies, a hotel and motel accommodations tax, increased tax on beer and wine and a net receipts tax. The rules committee had earlier refused to introduce these bills.

Chances for enactment of any new tax bills are dim. The Senate majority in caucus voted not to pass or refer any new revenue raising measures during the special session. Hatfield who had urged that no taxes be enacted also holds the power of veto over any tax bill that might slip by the Senate.

The governor is hopeful of balancing the budget with a $35 million reduction in areas within his jurisdiction combined with a cut in basic school support. The $12 million additional income from the speed-up of withholding taxes would offset the remaining deficit.

Still unsolved as of this writing is the salary control bill which would give the governor the responsibility for cutting legislators' pay as well as himself and other elected officials. The ways and means committee defeated last Thursday by a 9-5 party line vote a Republican move to cut legislative salaries by half.

The legislature, however, is expected to give the governor authority to cut both elected and state employee salaries.

It is also expected that the legislature will put the damper on high education's plan to increase tuition and admission requirements.

MARVIN HANEY ENTERS SALE LAKE MISSION HOME

Marvin Haney entered the LDS mission home in Salt Lake City on Monday, Nov. 11. He was accompanied by the Utah capital city by his mother, Mrs. Emil Wohlcke; her son and daughter, Norman and LaDawn Haney; and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Haney of Nampa.

While in Salt Lake, the group visited Mrs. Wohlcke's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence House and family; a stepson, Brent Haney and family and other relatives. They returned home late Sunday night, Nov. 10.
