

Work Smarter . . . Not Harder

By BERNICE STRAWN, Extension Home Management Specialist

DO YOUR FRIENDS' CHILDREN

. . . behave badly when they visit you?

Mrs. Roberta Frasier, OSU Extension family life specialist, gets questions about how to curb youngsters without offending parents.

Her suggestion — provide a drawer of things children enjoy—books, crayons and paper, empty boxes of assorted sizes, old magazines and blunt scissors, string and beads, spools, etc. Arrange a spot near this "Treasure Chest" and let the young guests entertain themselves.

If you don't want them to swing on the drapes, tell them so—but give them something else to do. It's your home; you can set the limits.

Mrs. Frasier also says that you can suggest that a little guest sit in "this chair" until he finishes his banana. Provide him with a napkin and show him where to wash his hands when he's through.

ARE YOU SURE

. . . you're using the right type of wax for your floors?

At recent consumer education programs given by county extension agents, a number of homemakers realized the causes of floor troubles.

Some of them had used solvent base wax on asphalt tile. This will soften the tile and cause colors to smear. The same is true of some rubber tiles also. Use a water-base or self-polishing type of wax on these floors.

Linda Jorgensen, John M. Blaylock Exchange Vows in LDS Temple Rites

MR. and MRS. JOHN BLAYLOCK

Miss Linda Jorgensen became the bride of John M. Blaylock in morning wedding rites performed Friday, Dec. 20, 1963, in the Idaho Falls LDS temple.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jorgensen of route 2, Parma, Idaho. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Blaylock of route 2, Nyssa.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held Dec. 21 in the recreation hall of the Parma LDS church with approximately 200 guests in attendance.

The bride's floor-length gown was designed with fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt, fashioned with two tiers of lace. Rows of lace accented the skirt back. Her elbow-length veil, edged in lace, was held by a tiny crown and she carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and red Christmas leaves.

Attending the bride were Lorraine Jorgensen as maid of honor; Janet Weber and Carol Durrant as bridesmaids. They were attired in sheath dresses of red crystaline and carried bouquets of red carnations and white foliage.

Serving as master of ceremonies during the reception program was Taylor Phillips, while a reading was presented by Edna Blaylock and remarks were made by Bishop Louis Phillips.

Reception music was provided by the Kapp orchestra, soloist was Bernelle LaBounty and a vocal duet was rendered by Merle Bake and Mel Nielson.

The new Mrs. Blaylock, a graduate of Parma high school, is presently employed at the Nyssa branch of the First National Bank of Oregon. Her husband was graduated from Nyssa high school, studied for one year at Brigham Young university in Provo and served a two-year mission for the LDS church.

He is currently working at the Amalgamated Sugar company plant in Nyssa, but plans to complete his college education.

The newlyweds plan to take their wedding trip next spring and are now residing on route 2, Nyssa.
