We like doing business with Murray Black

And he likes Standard's policy of supporting local business

If you had an oil well out in the ocean, as Standard often does, you'd find Murray Black a useful man. He helps to build, and also services, underwater oil wells and pipelines.

Murray is not a Standard employee...he's an independent contractor, with five other deep-sea divers on his payroll, and thousands of dollars of his own money tied up in equipment.

He started specifically to serve Standard's offshore drilling operations near Santa Barbara, and, from this small, local beginning, has become one of the busiest submarine contractors on the West Coast.

While his services are unique, he is only one of some 18,000 individual suppliers from whom Standard buys goods and services every year. Many are small, independent operators such as Murray Black.

Standard's purpose is to spread its purchasing as widely as possible, so that its dollars help to build many local businesses and communities.

Our annual shopping list is more than 50,000 items long. As our dollars flow into your community through local purchases, they help its whole economy. And the benefit, sooner or later, reaches out to you.

Planning ahead to serve you better
