committee, composed of Sam Hartley, Nyssa; Dyer Bennett, Ontario; Denny Jones, Juntura, submitted a lower budget than the current one to the county court Monday of last week.

The 1964-65 figures of $462,391 are down $16,004 from the current budget. Reductions were due lergely to the county having paid off all bonded indebtedness and to a lower welfare fund.

County court members, Judge Ellis White and Commissioners Jake Fischer and Earl Flock, will consider the budget at an open meeting June 11 with final approval set for June 18. If the figures submitted by the budget committee are adopted it will mean a reduction of approximately 1.5 mills in the county

Seek Malheur Dairy Princess Title

ALL BUT ONE of these young ladies are from Adrian, Nyssa, Ontario and Vale and are 1964 candidates for Miss Malheur County Dairy Princess. Left to right, they are (seated) Joan Palmer, Diane Walz, Lynn Chaney, SanDee Hobson and Joyce Johanson. Standing are Sue Olsen, Barbara Williamson, Nancy Frahm, Linda Olsen of Coos county (present Oregon Dairy Princess), Ruth Barklow, Effie Laan and Marilyn Shields. The girls were entertained at a kickoff luncheon Saturday in Vale and will be guests of the various chambers of commerce later in May. Following the chamber appearances, they will serve milk at the larger grocery stores in each town. This year's county dairy princess will be selected at a banquet dated June 6 in Vale. Last year's Malheur dairy princess was Miss Janet Coleman, 1963 graduate of Nyssa high school. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman of Ontario, former residents of the Arcadia community.
