

Ceremony With Holiday Atmosphere Unites Marsha Savage, David Moore

MR. and MRS. DAVID L. MOORE

—Portrait by Schoen.

Large basket arrangements of red-sprayed, white chrysanthemums, white-flocked evergreens and a traditional white carpet provided the setting for the Dec. 4, 1964, wedding ceremony uniting Miss Marsha Gail Savage and David L. Moore.

Bishop Howard Bair performed the double-ring rites at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Nyssa LDS stake house with approximately 300 guests in attendance.

Soloist was Mrs. Mark Hartley, aunt of the bride, accompanied by the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Susan Schenk.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Savage of 601 Ennis avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Moore of route 2, Nyssa.

Miss Savage was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length gown of nylon chiffon over peau de soie. Her empire bodice was fashioned with long tapered sleeves and scooped neckline trimmed with applied lace and pearls, with the lace insert continuing down the skirt front.

A bow at the back-center of the waistline graced the top of deep pleats which fell into a chapel train.

She wore a single pearl necklace and her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a crown of nylon flowers and tiny pearls.

Her crescent bouquet contained three nosegays designed from white mums and streamers of red velvet tubing. The nosegays were outlined with red satin leaves, edged with silver glitter to simulate poinsettias.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Jerry Gyllenskog, while bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike Savage, Mrs. Gerald Talbot, the Misses Linda Beckham and Dickie Servoss.

They were identical two-piece sheath dresses of red velvet, matching red leather shoes and each carried a white fur muff and a nosegay matching those in the bride's bouquet.

Flower girl was Julie Gyllenskog, the bride's niece, who wore a red velvet dress designed with full skirt. She also carried a white muff. Ring bearer was Scott Smith, wearing white dinner jacket and carrying a white satin pillow.

Serving as best man for his brother was Jim Moore, while ushers were Jim, Mike and Pat Savage, the bride's brothers, and John Moore, brother of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Savage wore an aqua-colored wool knit dress and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a wool suit of light blue. Each wore a corsage of white carnations, sprayed in red.

A reception followed the ceremony and was held in the stake house recreation hall, with the

OES Members Renew Obligations to Order

Golden Rule chapter 131, Order of Eastern Star, held a regular meeting Monday evening, Jan. 4, in the Masonic hall with Worthy Matron Patricia Marcum presiding.

All members began the new year by renewing their obligations to the order under direction of Worthy Patron Paul House. He was assisted by Louise Wernick, chaplain pro-tem, and star points including Bonnie Sappe, Nancy Goodell, Claudine Garrison, Winifred Kygar and Betty House.

Plans were made to have another dance on Saturday, Feb. 13.

During the social hour which followed the meeting, refreshments were served by Lois Cartwright, Lucille Steiner and Winifred Kygar.

Duplicate Winners Told For Monday Card Session

Winners for the Monday night session of Nyssa Duplicate Bridge club have been reported by Mrs. David Sarazin, co-hostess for the weekly card parties.

Dr. L. A. Maulding and Mrs. Bob McKinney were high score winners; Mrs. Houston Wilson and Mrs. Roy Nishizaki were second; Mrs. Dick Wilson and Roy Nishizaki, third.

The public is welcome to attend these card sessions held Monday nights in the Episcopal church basement.

Dr. and Mrs. David Sarazin and daughters were Christmas holiday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl in Portland.

bridegroom's father serving as master of ceremonies.

The bride's table featured a three-tier cake, trimmed with red and white flowers and topped with miniature newlyweds. Also gracing the white lace-covered table was a centerpiece arrangement of white mums, red lighted tapers and winter greenery, and crystal punch bowl.

Assisting with serving, gifts and guest registration were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Jack Hutchison and Mrs. Cecil Fetter; Mmes. Louis Kennedy, Larry Glenn, Howard Day, Harold Wilson, Wilbur Holcomb, Art Servoss, Jim Moore, Marion Glenn and Paul House.

Program selections included vocal solos by Miss Sondra Holmes and Mrs. Hartley with piano music by Miss Schenk.

Among out-of-area guests attending the wedding and reception were Miss Linda Beckham of Walla Walla, Wash., Mrs. Dusty Rhodes and Susan of Milton-Freewater, Ore., Mrs. Jack Hutchison of Pullman, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kennedy of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fetter of Nampa.

The new Mrs. Moore was graduated in 1963 from Nyssa high school and is employed as receptionist at Smith and Keys architectural firm in Ontario. Her husband is a 1961 NHS graduate, attended Eastern Oregon college in La Grande, served a two-year mission for the LDS church and is working in the field department of Ore-Ida Foods at Ontario.

Following a trip to Idaho Falls and Jackson, Wyo., the Moores are now residing at 971 West Idaho street in Ontario.
