Miss Ona Lou Winchester became the bride of Donald B. Shaw during a ceremony performed at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Sunday, June 6, 1965, in Sunset Hill Baptist church at Anchorage, Alaska.

The bride is a daughter of former Nyssans Mr. and Mrs. Asa C. Winchester, whose present address is Star Route A, Box 321, Anchorage. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James V. Shaw of Nyssa.

In the presence of 40 guests, the double-ring rites were performed by the Rev. Roy Young before a setting of gladioli arrangements. Soloist was Robert Broderson, Sr., accompanied by Miss Irene Saxton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashion-

Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a jeweled tiara and on a white Bible she carried a cascading bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Fred Winchester, a great-aunt of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She was attired in a fuchsia-colored gown and carried a bouquet fashioned from a single rose, encircled with carnations.

Fred H. Winchester, a great-uncle, served as best man, while ushers were the bride's brothers, Clifford H. and Donald D. Winchester.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Winchester wore a dress of sky-blue lace, blue walking coat, white accessories and a corsage of white rose buds, centered with a single pink rose.

A three-tier cake, trimmed with pink rosebuds and topped with wedding bells, centered the refreshment table at a reception held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Assisting with serving, gifts and guest registration were Mmes. Allen Hanson, James Babski, Robert Broderson, James Foode and Ted Hunt.

They take American friendship with them ...everywhere they go!

They're not the kind of men who often make news. But they carry American friendship—and ideas—into some of the most out-of-the-way places on earth. They are Standard Oil geologists, engineers, technicians.

They explore primitive jungles, deserts, tundras, bayous, even the ocean bottoms, for oil.

When they find oil in far-off places, many other benefits follow. The local country gains a new source of energy, new jobs, new revenues, improved living standards. American cooperation makes stronger friendly nations.

Standard Oil men are more than oil-hunters. They are goodwill ambassadors. They take American friendship with them . . . everywhere they go!

Standard opened another frontier, America's first service station, in Seattle, in 1907. From this proud tradition, the man at the Sign of the Chevron serves you with today's highest quality S.O. Products.
