

Jaycees Donate to AFS

RAY TARTER, Nyssa Jaycee publicity chairman (on left) presents a check in the amount of $45 to Fred Arai, president of the local American Field Service committee. The check represents proceeds from a recent stage show and dance, with music furnished by former Nyssa Music Director Bob C. Smith and his high school stage band from Milwaukie, Ore. The musicians stopped in Nyssa en route to the Jaycees' national convention in Buffalo, N.Y. The money will be used by the AFS committee to help bring this year's foreign exchange student to Nyssa.—Journal Photo.

Australian Student Chosen as AFS Exchangee; To Reside With Nedrys

Fred Arai, president of the Nyssa chapter of American Field Service, announced Wednesday that he had received confirmation on a foreign exchange student for the next school year.

The student is Margaret Staples, who resides in Cronulla, New South Wales, Australia. She will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Dirick Nedry, Judy and Janet during her year in Nyssa.

Exchangee Rolf Lier Leaves on First Lap Of Trip to Homeland

Rolf Lier, Nyssa high school exchange student during the 1964-65 school term, left last week for Spokane where he joined 26 other AFS students. The exchanges were met June 24 at the Davenport hotel by a welcoming committee and introduced to their host families. Special activities were planned for the students and their hosts on Friday.

The youths boarded a bus on Saturday morning bound for Washington, D.C., via Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. They plan to arrive in the nation's capital on July 18.

Rolf was taken to Spokane by his American parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Lawrence. The Nyssans also picked up Hernan Valdivia of Puno, Peru, at Ontario and Sonia Perez of Lima, Peru, at Baker. Rolf will sail back to his native Norway aboard "The Seven Seas."

Miss Staples is 17 years of age and has completed her high school training in Australia. She has an older sister, 19, and a brother, 12 years old. The sister was an AFS student two years ago and spent her year in Minnesota. Margaret's father is a certified public accountant.

Exchangee Enjoys Sports

"From what can be learned, Cronulla is a suburb of Sydney," Arai said. Margaret is apparently an outdoor girl, and has been active in Girl Scouts and is a Girl Guide and Ranger. She seemingly enjoys all sports and was girls' golf champion of her high school. Margaret will arrive in San Francisco around July 27, according to the AFS communication, and should arrive in Nyssa early in August.

"We look forward to welcoming her," Arai said, "and think she will enjoy her year in Nyssa. She will probably find it quite a change to live here in the wide open spaces after growing up in a huge city like Sydney."

19th Annual Nyssa Nite Rodeo Slated For Friday and Saturday, July 9-10

Tex Morgan, chairman for the 19th annual Nyssa Nite Rodeo, announced Wednesday that planning was on schedule and everything would be ready for the first showing Friday night, July 9.

The place is the rodeo grounds in the southwest part of Nyssa (just south of the Adrian highway); time for the rodeo is 8:15 o'clock following the big downtown parade at 7:30 leading into the grounds.

All riders in the parade will be admitted free Friday night, as well as all children under 12 accompanied by their parents. Admission for adults, including grandstand seats, is $1.50.

Morgan said in addition to the five big events each night, consisting of saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, bull riding and steer bulldogging, there will be some special events with local people participating. One of these he said, would be a businessmen's calf tying contest, for which he had some local dignitaries signed up, whose names will be announced next week in the Journal.

Grounds to Be Sprayed

The chairman announced that the carnival would arrive and be set up Tuesday night, the stock is on the grounds and that Paul Hansen, local spraying operator, has offered to donate his services to spray the grounds prior to the start of the event.

Mayor Grant Rinehart has proclaimed next week as rodeo week, starting Monday, and suggests that all citizens dress in western attire.

For a more detailed account of this coming event, see the Journal next week.

Mayor Proclaims Nyssa Rodeo, July 9-10

WHEREAS, the dates of July 9 and 10 have been set for Nyssa's 19th Annual Nite Rodeo, and

WHEREAS, this is a national western sport enjoyed by millions of people, and

WHEREAS, the sponsors are a group of local people acting without any selfish, profit motives,

I, GRANT H. RINEHART, Mayor of the City of Nyssa, hereby proclaim and declare the week starting Monday, July 5, as Nyssa Rodeo week and feel it would be fitting for all citizens of the city to dress in western garb, as far as possible, to advertise the affair.

(Signed)

GRANT H. RINEHART
Mayor
For the City of Nyssa

Welcome to Nyssa!

Nyssa Sell-a-Bration Issue Lists Business Firms, Services Available

This Sell-a-Bration issue of the Journal will be going into approximately 4,000 homes in, or adjacent to, the regular trading area.

In the first eight-page section will be found the local news, society and ads of most of the leading merchants. Some of the latter are playing up the Fourth of July sales, some mid-summer sales and others carry institutional-type ads showing services they offer.

The Nyssa Businessmen's Promotion committee has a half-page ad outlining some of the advantages of trading in Nyssa all the time and listing alphabetically, by occupation, the 188 business and service firms here. This is to welcome all Idaho people who are looking for a place to trade in a sales-tax-free city of Oregon—and at the same time remind Oregon people who have been trading in some of the larger cities of Idaho that they will possibly be subject to the state's new tax, effective today, July 1.

Nyssa Pictures Appear

In the second eight-page section will be found 2 1/2 pages devoted to the improvements and growth of Nyssa in the past six years. This space, the pictures, engravings and research of all newspaper files (plus many hours searching city records) are donated by the publishers, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brammer, as a public service to area residents.

It all adds up to the fact that Nyssa is not dying, that it is a good place to live and an excellent place to trade at all times. The merchants are anxious to fill customers' needs and invite all area residents to tell them of their needs that cannot be obtained here. At the same time businessmen are continuously working to make improvements that will be beneficial to patrons and themselves.

FALSE ALARM SOUNDS

According to local firemen, the alarm which sounded last Friday night was not due to the report of a fire. The siren sounded during a heavy rain and was reported to have been started by water getting in the circuit and shorting out the system.

Voters in Nyssa Approve $120,000 For Water Bonds

Little interest was manifested in the Tuesday bond election to finance additional water supplies for Nyssa. Only 89 voters turned out and the issue carried 79 to 10.

The $120,000 bond issue will provide an additional supply of water with wells to be drilled on the Idaho side of Snake river and piped across, via the highway bridge.

Repayment will be made from water revenue and will not raise present taxes or water rates, according to city authorities.

Highland Games Set July 11 at Caldwell

The Salt Lake Scot Pipe band under direction of Pipe-Major Dale Bain will appear at the Treasure Valley Highland Games slated July 11 at the Caldwell city park.

The Highland Games, first ever to be held in this area, will include track and field events, highland dancing and piping competition. The track and field events are open to all competitors including youngsters under 13 and those from 13 to 17 years of age.

TV Appearance Starts Campaign to Select Farm Bureau Royalty

A campaign to select a "Malheur County Farm Bureau Sweetheart" began yesterday with the appearance of Miss Glenda Olson on the Bonnie Wallis television show.

The Ontario Miss, last year's "Sweetheart," was interviewed and played several piano selections. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Olson of the Oregon Slope community.

Mrs. Donald Oakes of Ontario is chairman of the campaign and has announced that this year's contest will be held in August and the winner will be crowned by Miss Olson at the Aug. 15 annual Farm Bureau picnic.

Contestants must be between the ages of 17 and 22 and never married. They must be a high school senior or graduate and a member of a Farm Bureau family.

An essay of 1,500 maximum words on the topic, "Why Farm Bureau?" must be written and submitted for judging by Aug. 2 to the Ontario Farm Bureau office.

Each young lady will be judged on her essay, poise, personality, charm, beauty, knowledge of farming and the Farm Bureau organization.

Union Pacific Line To Stop Handling Smaller Freight

Union Pacific Railroad will cease handling less than carload shipments of freight on practically all of its lines effective Aug. 1.

The announcement made by the vice presidents of operations and traffic was made Wednesday of last week.

All interstate traffic of this classification will be removed except between the Los Angeles area and Las Vegas, Nev. It will also eliminate intrastate shipments in Oregon, Washington and Wyoming with other states to come under the order at later dates.

Tom Jones, local freight agent, said Nyssa was one of the shipping points that was not a money loser for the railroad, and that there was sufficient demand for this service that he felt the chambers of commerce should take necessary steps to have the motor freight companies serving the Nyssa area to open a freight depot for the pick-up and delivery of freight.

The announcement made by the company cited as reasons for the elimination of the service as being: (1) the continued construction of improved highways, (2) increase in size of motor carrier vehicles and (3) higher costs of maintaining the service by the railroad than revenue received on the freight.

It will increase the number of sorely needed box cars for other more useful purposes at times when they are short nationwide, the company noted.

SUMMER BAND STUDENTS SET WEDNESDAY PRACTICE

Students who participated in the recent summer band program are asked to meet at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 7, in the high school band room, it is announced by Stuart Henigson. Practice will be held in preparation for the forthcoming rodeo parade.

It has been rumored that the band will be towed by an unusual vehicle during the July 9 parade performance.

Sugar Spinners to Show Processing Of Beets at International Roundup

Miss Caren Jackson, an NHS senior and daughter of the Wilton Jacksons, has been training for the past 12 months as a delegate to the International Girl Scout Roundup to be held in the near future at Farragut, Idaho.

She has been a member of the Girl Scout organization for nine years and during the roundup will be known officially as E-2-239-001-3, which are code numbers for her camp, area, troop, patrol and individual.

In a little less than two weeks, she will board a chart-red bus and will be one of 8,960 girls and 2,000 adults participating in encampment activities.

The bus will leave Boise on the evening of July 14, will arrive at Farragut the following morning, and will return to the Idaho capital city on the night of July 28.

Girls to Come Around World

Girl Scouts attending the roundup will come from each state in the union, from every U.S. territory and possession and from all six continents where the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts is established.

Several weeks ago, 48 girls participated in a final training camp-out session at Baker. Camp was set up, just as it will be at the roundup, but on a smaller scale.

Equipment and tents were carried, pulled or pushed on wheels into the camping area. Demonstrations were given by each patrol during an afternoon of visitations by the public. These will be given in the demonstrations area at the International Roundup site.

Express Thanks for Help

Caren, together with other delegates from the "Silver Sage Sugar Spinners" of the Silver Sage council, have asked the Journal to express their appreciation to all who helped to make this trip possible.

They especially want to thank Ray Larson who spent many hours getting the girls organized, equipping and preparing them for their demonstration on the processing of sugar beets.

Another vote of thanks goes to Harold Brendle who assisted local Girl Scouts with preparing a rock display. The young ladies have worked at their fund-raising projects all winter.

Although Miss Jackson is an official representative for this area, approximately 16 members of the local troops plan to visit the Farragut campsite. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Bill Wahlert and possibly others.

Sales Tax Becomes Effective Today For Idaho Residents; Merchants Go All-Out in Selling Before Deadline

Confusion on What Is Taxable and Manner Of Collecting Face Most Retail Stores

The three percent sales tax becomes effective for Idaho residents today, July 1. It is a period of worry for most retail merchants of towns bordering on Oregon, where there is no tax, as they fear a big loss of trade to competitors across the state line.

Conversely, Oregon merchants are starting to make a play for this trade, which some businessmen believe will increase their gross sales a minimum of five percent. However, Idaho merchants aren't failing to make an effort to retain the business.

For several weeks all sales media—newspapers, shoppers, radio and television stations—have played up the theme, "Buy prior to July 1 and beat the sales tax." And the closer the day came when the tax became effective, the more it sounded like Christmas selling when merchants tell how many shopping days are left before Christmas.

Problems of Tax Studied

Regional tax clinics have been held over the state of Idaho in an effort to explain and clarify just what is taxable under the new law, how records should be maintained and how the law is to be enforced along the border states having no tax. State officials have sincerely tried to aid the merchants as well as paying customers, but confusion reigns in many cases.

It is a certainty that the tax will provide more money for Idaho schools and offer some property tax relief while it remains on the books. But it is very uncertain how the people will accept it and what they may do when they have an opportunity to vote on it in the fall of 1966.

Past experience in most states indicates that once the public becomes accustomed to paying the tax, they will accept it without too much grumbling as it is paid on daily purchases and doesn't fall in larger sums at one time like property and income taxes.

Studies Ophthalmology

He then studied for four years at the U of C medical school in Denver and recently completed two years of internship and residency training in general practice and ophthalmology at Good Samaritan hospital in Portland.

Dr. Pfaff is a member of Theta Chi national fraternity, Colorado medical organizations and the American Medical association. He is a past junior member of Rotary International.

He served five years in the U.S. Army and spent one year in Germany. During World War II and the Korean conflict, he served with the 82nd Airborne division and the Army Medical corps.

Dr. and Mrs. Pfaff were married in 1951 at Ft. Collins. She is a native of that city. They are Methodists and plan to attend services at the local church.

The new physician states that it will be around Aug. 1 when his office will be equipped for eye-care services.

Ray Daudts Open Main Street Auto Body, Paint Shop

A new auto body and paint shop was opened Friday at 505 Main street by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Daudt. They purchased the building from "Pete" Peterson and have repainted it inside and out.

The family came here from Payette, where Daudt had resided for 25 years. He has had 18 years of experience in this line of work, the last six years being head of the body shop at the Chevrolet garage in Ontario.

Mrs. Daudt (Wallie) is a native of Germany and the couple has one daughter, Kathy, six years of age. They are now at home at 114 South Third street in Nyssa.

Daudt listed his favorite hobbies as hunting and fishing, then added, when he can find time. He is a brother of former Nyssan Chuck Daudt, who with his wife operates a cafe in Jordan Valley.

CAREN JACKSON
... Scout Roundup Delegate
