

AN AERIAL VIEW OF NYSSA and a small portion of the surrounding farming lands—looking west from the Snake river with U.S. highway 20-26 running past Amalgamated's sugar refinery, under the U. P. railroad overpass and on up Main street. In upper center, where the highway turns, is the local school plant. The tall white building to the right of the highway is Nyssa Elevator. At extreme lower right is the labor camp for migrant workers.

THIS PHOTO was taken June 1, 1964, shortly after J. M. Hess, a Nampa contractor, began tearing up the old sidewalks on Main street. Orin Vail was the lifter operator, with his son standing beside a partly loaded truck. About a month later the project was completed and the Nyssa Main street firms were graced with all-new sidewalks.

THE POLAR BEAR located at 502 Main street is owned and operated by Keith and Eloise Remington. They purchased the original "Polar Bear Drive-In" from the Marlow Funks in August 1959 and remodeled in early 1961. An all-new structure, pictured here, was completed and the first customers served Nov. 1, 1963. In addition to circular counters and booth space, there is a dining room area and two large lighted canopies for car service. Eleven outside telephones complete the efficient "car-hop" operations.

Land Purchased For Industries

Nyssa Industries, Inc., owns land adjacent to the city suitable for industrial development when the need arises.

In 1959 a 137-acre tract was purchased by the local corporation from Mrs. Elizabeth Strassbaugh and stock sold in 1960 to meet the purchase price and pay delinquent taxes on the land.

The tract is about 1 1/2 miles north of Nyssa between Third street and the main line of the Union Pacific railroad. In 1960 the land was platted, a topographical map made so drainage could be affected and a quarter-mile fill made into the tract for laying a spur line from the Union Pacific main line.

Near the same time a half-mile stretch of roadway was excavated into the tract from the county road on the north, and 40 to 50 acres were cleared of brush and some leveling done.

Stock was issued to pay for services rendered on the tract and in setting up the corporation. The originators of the idea felt that there would be a call for locations sometime and they would be available when needed. Some officers have moved from town since the incorporation and a new board will be elected in the near future.

Food Cost Guide Issued by OSU

How much does it cost to feed your family? You can compare your weekly food bill and estimated average expenditures for Western families with the aid of a recently revised circular published by Oregon State University Cooperative Extension service.

The circular, written by Velma Seat, OSU extension food marketing specialist, provides estimated costs of one week's food for individuals in a family of four, based on low-cost, moderate and generous plans.

Low-cost diet was estimated on the basis of a family income of $2,000 to $4,000; the moderate diet on an income of $4,000 to $6,000 and generous, $6,000 and up.

Individual weekly food costs ranged from a low of $3.30 per week, for a child less than one-year-old on a moderate food plan, to more than $10 per week for men and women in their 20's and 30's.

The circular was revised to reflect food prices as of January 1965.

Single copies of Extension Circular 686, "Your Weekly Food Bill," may be obtained free from the Bulletin Clerk, Department of Printing, Oregon State University, Corvallis.

OLD Mr. BOSTON

Like Fine Scotch, Canadian, Rum & Brandy...

KENTUCKY WHISKEY TASTES BEST AS A BLEND!

There's only one way to make a good Kentucky Whiskey taste better...blend it with other Kentucky Whiskeys and grain neutral spirits.

For years, the secret behind the famous smoothness of Scotch and Canadian whiskeys is the fact that they are actually blends of several different types of Scotch and Canadian whiskeys. Most Rums and Brandies are blends too, of several different types of these well-known liquors.

Now, Mr. Boston actually improves on the natural rich flavor of good Kentucky Whiskey by selecting several of the best and blending them together with choice grain neutral spirits. Result: smooth flavor balance and mildness that straight Kentucky just can't match. Try a bottle of Mr. Boston's Deluxe Whiskey soon!
