'District of Confusion'

"Congress has lowered income taxes in the name of giving Americans more of their own money to spend. It is also raising taxes on their incomes in the name of Social Security.

"The country is fighting a war in Vietnam and simultaneously repealing 'wartime' excise taxes because we are not at war.

"Our prosperity is the highest in the nation's history and we are embarking on a massive anti-poverty campaign.

"We face a 'long hot summer' of discontent and violence on the streets of our cities and a gigantic domestic 'Peace Corps' is being formed.

"The administration wants to spend $3 billion for foreign aid in the name of friendship while Uncle Sam is badgered by over 100 nations at the UN and 'Yankee Go Home' signs are posted on five continents.

"The Pentagon spends $50 billion a year for an Army, Navy and Air Force and the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament agency clamors for total and complete disarmament.

"LBJ cuts duty-free tourist allowances to save $50 million in gold outflow and Governor Pat Brown of California seeks authority to spend almost half that amount abroad on equipment for the state's Feather River Water project.

"In order to maintain a 'sound dollar' we are no longer minting them.

"'Togetherness' and 'Interdependence' with Communist countries is being urged at the State department while Russia expels our diplomats and we expel hers."

(The above was taken from a report by Rep. Clyde Hosmer of California to his constituents.)

A Lazy Man's 23rd Psalm

Society is my shepherd; I shall not work; It alloweth me to lie down on a feather bed; It leadeth me beside the still factories; It destroyeth my ambition; It leadeth me in the paths of a goldbrick for politics sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of inflation and deficit spending, I will fear no evil, for the welfare agencies are with me.

They prepareth the requisitions that filleth my table By mortgaging the earnings of my grandchildren; My head is filled with mirth That my cup runneth over without effort. Surely, the taxpayers shall care for me all the days of my life

And I shall dwell in the house of a parasite forever.

We suspect that most legislators might well read that with some conscience twinges, especially in the area of spending money supplied by taxpayers. The theme is clear enough: indictment of the end product of Socialism. —The Eastern Idaho Farmer.

LDs Church Returns Cotton Subsidy Check

A church group in Chandler, Ariz., recently received a check for $318.45 as payment for participation in the cotton subsidy program during 1964.

The Chandler ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints was the recipient of the check which they returned because they said they did not earn it.

The church grows 10 acres of cotton near Chandler and uses the proceeds to pay for missionary and charitable purposes.

Under the cotton subsidy program, farms under 15 acres are automatically paid a compensatory amount of $30 an acre, directly from the U.S. treasury. The payment supposedly makes up the loss for low cotton prices established by the Commodity Credit corporation.

The chairman of the Quorum of Elders, spokesman for the church group, said, "We didn't earn the money and we don't want it. We believe that a great deal of money could be saved our country by the elimination of government doles. We believe that this type of subsidy tends to stifle initiative and destroy self-respect."

The Elders asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to report on what happened to the returned funds. They found, through their Congressman, John Rhodes, that the Commodity Credit corporation had deposited the money in the federal treasury.

In reporting to the congregation, Rhodes said, "Your letter was like a shot in the arm—it boosted my morale and renewed my encouragement when I was feeling discouraged about the state of affairs of our nation."

The church Elders said they expected to receive another check for their current cotton crop and that they would also return it.

ATTEND IDAHO MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Paul House, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wernick went to Placerville, Idaho, Saturday when the men attended a meeting of Placerville lodge No. 3, AF & AM. The sessions were held in observance of the 100th anniversary of the Placerville unit.

RETURN TO SEATTLE

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Haroldsen and family left Monday for their home in Seattle after visiting their parents, Mrs. Louise Fife, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Haroldsen. The two Haroldsen families, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bair and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orlee Sipes and family at Homedale.

ATTENDS SALEM MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene DeMink and family returned home June 28 from a trip to Salem and the coast. He attended the Eagles state convention in Salem and later the family spent some time at the beach.

VISITORS FROM UTAH

Mrs. Arthur Cook, Janice and Carol of Salt Lake and a friend from American Fork visited Sunday with the former's mother-in-law, Mrs. Angie Cook. The Utah visitors also attended a Trail family reunion Sunday in Boise.

School Drop-Outs Paid More Than Men in Service

Under President Johnson's new Job Corps "war on poverty," a high school drop-out who is unable to hold a job may enter the Corps. He receives room, board, medical care and a clothing allowance of $75 per year. In addition, he receives monthly pay of $80, $30 of which is for "spending money." $50 per month is saved and turned over to him in a lump sum when he leaves the Corps.

The Corpsman may send an allotment of $25 (out of his savings) home and the government (meaning the taxpayers) will match it with another $25. There is no requirement that the allotment go to his dependents. After 10 months a Job Corps enlistee can earn $100 per month. Add to this his extra allotment and his total rises to $125.

By contrast, a high school graduate entering military service receives monthly pay of $78, increased to $83.20 at the end of four months. He can get an allotment only if he has dependents for whom he supplies at least half the support. Though he may reach the rank of E-3 during his first two years of service, his maximum pay is $99.37 monthly.

Recruiting material for the Job Corps states: "The purpose (of the Corps) is to help you get and keep a good job, maybe return to school or join the Army or Navy." And, as an article in the "Air Force Times" points out, "if they do join the Army, Navy or Air Force, they will have to take a pay cut."

IT'S YOUR LAW

By Oregon State Bar

Subrogation Clarified

Your insurance policies often use the word "subrogation."

One person may step into the shoes of another who has certain legal rights and become the creditor of another.

In some cases a person may permit subrogation, in others the law may allow it.

How does an insurance company subrogate? Suppose you have insurance on your car and a truck runs into you. Your insurance company pays your damages at once. Then, under its rights of subrogation, it can sue the truck driver or owner. It has the same right to sue the trucker that you had.

This is why many insurance companies will not let you release or settle a case without their consent.

Many other kinds of insurance such as fire, casualty and workmen's compensation allow subrogation.

Subrogation sometimes applies as a matter of law even without the owner's consent. Suppose you "go" a note for a friend, a relative or business associate. If you have to pay his debt when he fails, the law will allow you to sue him to make up your losses.

The law allows subrogation only if you must pay the debt or pay it to protect yourself. The law frowns upon volunteer debt payers and allows no subrogation.

On the other hand, one heir paid off his uncle's claims and funeral expenses. By right of subrogation the estate would pay him back just as it would pay their creditors.

Suppose a man builds you a

Girls' Stater

MISS PATTY URRY, who attended the recent Girls' State sessions on the Willamette university campus at Salem, will be honored at an 8 o'clock tea this evening at the home of Mrs. Herman Towne.
