

Hunters Reminded of Closing Dates, Drawings for Big Game Tags, Permits

Oregon big game hunters are reminded of the closing dates and drawings for big game tags and permits. Applications must be filed prior to the closing dates if hunters wish to be eligible for the drawings.

Big game regulations listing all seasons and other information pertaining to the fall hunts will be available to sportsmen at license agencies about mid-July.

Hunters intending to apply for either the bighorn sheep or mountain goat hunts should apply by regular postcard listing name, address, hunting license number and the hunt applied for. Applicants are advised to print name and address.

Deadline for receipt of applications for the sheep and goat hunts is 5 p.m. July 20. The public drawing is scheduled for 10 a.m. July 28. Six sheep tags and five goat tags will be issued.

Antelope Season Aug 14-18

Antelope hunters have until 5 p.m. July 20 to file applications for the antelope season scheduled for Aug. 14 through 18. The drawing is scheduled for 10 a.m. July 28.

Applicants for antelope tags are requested to file on the regular controlled hunt form available at license agencies. A fee of $5 must be submitted with the application. Party applications are limited to two persons. Individuals who received an antelope tag in 1962, 1963 or 1964 are not eligible to apply. A total of 675 tags will be issued in six antelope hunting areas.

Deer hunters filing applications for unit permits and controlled deer hunts have until 5 p.m. Aug. 3 to apply, with the drawing scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 11. Hunters filing for controlled hunts must do so on the regular controlled hunt application available at license agencies.

Four May Apply as Party

A fee of $5 must be submitted by each applicant. Up to four persons may apply as a party on one application. Individuals may apply for one controlled season tag.

Hunters applying for unit deer permits must file on the deer permit application form issued with the deer tag. Persons wishing to file as a party of not to exceed four persons must check the box marked "party," make identical choices and mail all applications for the party in one envelope.

Persons who properly apply prior to the Aug. 3 deadline but are not successful in receiving a permit will receive a rejection notice and will have the privilege of reapplying for available permits.

Elk Hunt Procedure Outlined

Deadline for receipt of elk permit applications is 5 p.m. Aug. 23. The public drawing is scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 27. Application for an elk permit must be made on the application issued with the elk tag. Party applications are limited to two persons.

Persons who received elk permits in 1962, 1963 or 1964 are not eligible to apply. Hunters who properly file prior to the Aug. 23 deadline and are unsuccessful will receive a rejection notice. They may reapply for available permits or save the notice for future preference.

Hunters are reminded that they must make a choice between hunting Rocky Mountain elk in eastern Oregon or Roosevelt elk in the Cascades and coast range. The decision must be made prior to purchasing the elk tag. Once the tag is obtained there can be no change of hunting area.

Should Keep Rejection Notices

With reference to the rejection notices to unsuccessful applicants, it is the responsibility of the hunter to store these away in a safe place if he expects to receive priority at a later date. As previously reported, the game commission will drop its five-year waiting period and replace it with the preference policy as recommended by the 1965 legislature.

Under the new policy, rejection notices will be sent to all applicants unsuccessful in drawings for big game tags or permits. Persons submitting five consecutive rejection notices for a species will be given preference in the issuance of tags and permits after 1969.
