It's nice to be an issue

(makes business real good)

We're getting a lot of notice from competitors these days. We're flattered to be singled out for such unusual attention. We're grateful, too. Many people who were undecided about natural gas are now joining their neighbors in the selection of this modern fuel for heating their homes. They figure that people selling natural gas must really have something, or there wouldn't be such a commotion raised by distributors of other fuels. Their reasoning is well founded.

Natural gas is cleaner, faster, more efficient, more dependable, and more economical than any other heat available to you. It outperforms ALL other forms of heating energy. Cost? Cascade's low rate for heating, heating water, and cooking will bring worthwhile savings along with better, more carefree living.

Best of all, natural gas is a QUALITY product. It will heat your home PROPERLY, with fully-circulated, fresh-air warmth. Isn't that what you want? It is most significant that despite concentrated and expensive efforts to discredit natural gas, your gas company is growing at the rate of 6,000 new customers every year. Get natural gas—the fuel that the fuss is all about—and you'll have the best heat money can buy... at any price.

WANT THE FACTS? We have an interesting booklet that will answer ALL of your questions about natural gas. A phone call will bring you a copy of "Sherlock Homes in the Curious Adventure of Heating the House."
