

Nyssa Librarian Lists New Reading For Children's Book Week, Nov. 1-6

Mrs. Max Urry, city librarian, reports Nov. 1-6 is Children's Book week with a theme of "Sing Out for Books" and invites parents and children to visit the library especially during these days to see the selection of new stories of history, mystery and science for young readers.

The following young people's books were recently added for circulation:

"Wheels West" by Evelyn Sibley Lampman. The story of Tabitha Brown.

"Some Went West" by Dorothy M. Johnson. This is the story of women who went west and never gained fame outside of their own communities. Many of them did face dangers and were afraid sometimes. They had good reasons to be afraid.

"1918 Gamble for Victory" by Robert Cowley. The greatest attack of World War I.

"Star-Raker" by Donald Gordon. The Star-Raker is a multi-jet plane that leaps into the air like a silver arrow to cruise at a speed of 2,000 miles per hour with an altitude of 80,000 feet. The plane nears the end of her testing, but then . . .

"First Around the World" by George Sanderlin. A journal of Magellan's voyage.

"The Land and People of Central America" by Ruth Karen.

GRADE SCHOOL BOOKS
"Watch Those Red Wheels Roll" by Marion Renick. A story of the Junior Soap Box derby.

"The Runaway Robot" by Lester delRey.

"The Losing Game" by Anne Emery.

"Susan and Martin" by Gene Inyart.

"Secret of the Hidden Painting" by Michel-Aime Baudouy.

"The Spinning Wheel Secret" by Lillie V. Albricht.

"Top Hand" by Francis Lynde Kroll.

"The Golden Bookshelf of Natural History: Fishes."

"The Nightingale" by Hans Christian Andersen.

"The Traveling Musicians" by Edith Lowe. A read-aloud book.

"The Animal Friends of Peng-U" by Marguerite H. Bro.

"The Animal Hat Shop" by Sara Murphey. A Follett beginning-to-read book.

"Big, Bad Bear" by Zula Todd.

"Flash, Crash, Rumble and Roll" by Franklyn M. Branley. A let's-read-and-find-out science book.

"Red Fox and His Canoe" by Nathaniel Benchley. An I-can-read book.

Oregon Grange Men Host Area Meeting

Oregon State Grange officials sponsored a meeting for insurance agents, grange masters, county deputies and their wives Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Oregon Trail Grange hall.

Fred Schuetz, insurance agent for Baker county, called the session to order and introduced Frank A. Eichhorn of Portland, secretary for Grange Mutual Insurance; A. D. Shaw of Portland, state manager of Grange Insurance association; and William G. Ross of Vale, state director of Grange insurance.

Turkey dinner was served to 20 members by the Home Economics ladies of Oregon Trail Grange.

RETURNS TO CALIFORNIA

GUESTS FROM LEBANON

Mr. and Mrs. Don Holmes of Lebanon were dinner guests last Thursday evening in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eldredge.

THOMAS MISCHLER TREATED OCT. 23 AT LOCAL HOSPITAL
A story in the Oct. 28 issue of the Journal listed Thomas Mischler of Sheridan, Ore., among those treated last week for birdshot injuries at Malheur Memorial hospital.

He was treated for facial wounds at the local hospital; however, it was on Saturday, Oct. 23, instead of Friday, Oct. 22, as was recorded at the hospital and reported to the Journal.

Under normal circumstances, a difference of one day appearing in print would probably go unnoticed. In this case, however, if Mischler had been treated on Friday, he would have been jumping the gun with his pheasant hunting, because the season opened Saturday, Oct. 23.

PTA Carnival Reported Successful; Other School Activities Announced

By Mrs. Waldo Smalley

APPLE VALLEY—The Apple Valley PTA carnival held Saturday evening was reported to have been well attended and provided a lot of fun for those attending. The new "Peg Board Climb" was a special attraction. Door prize, a turkey, was won by Norma Nelson; a radio, by Glen Upchurch and the bean guess by Cheri Mann.

Everyone who helped plan or work on the carnival deserves a vote of thanks for a project well done.

In observance of National Book week, volumes are on display this week at the Apple Valley school. Back-to-school open house will be held Tuesday, Nov. 9, at Parma high school.
