THANKS-GIVING!

GUEST EDITORIAL by JOHN W. BULLOCK
 Pastor, Church of the Nazarene

This is a special time of the year to be thankful, and may we express our gratitude to God in a unique way. What is the meaning of the word "Thanksgiving?" We cannot say "thanks" without giving. Always receiving and never giving makes selfish people and a selfish nation.

A thankful person is a giving person! Show us a person who is grateful and we will see one who gives to others.

When we are thankful toward our fellowman, we will give love to our fellowman. When we are thankful for our children, we give them love. When thankful for our companion, we extend our love, or when thankful for a vocation, we do a better job.

In being thankful for our community, we serve to make it better and when thankful for our church, we love it and work to see it reach outward.

When we say "thanks" to God this Thanksgiving season, let us give our hearts, lives, devotion and service to Him.

Knife, Fork Club Members to Hear Down-to-Earth Talk on Space Topic

Dr. Russell Williams, popular astronomer from Ft. Myers, Fla., will be featured speaker at the Knife and Fork club dinner meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23, at East Side cafe in Ontario.

The speaker is a former professor at Miami university and Rollins college, is a space expert and former past grand orator of the state of Florida.

Dr. Williams is also a former commander of his American Legion post, is a practical businessman and a veteran of World War I, during which he saw 51 months of service. His war record, too, must be commendatory, inasmuch as he was once named military aide to the governor of his state.

A "down-to-earth" talk on "The Space Around Us," is what members of the Knife and Fork club will hear. The Williams story is one of adventure. In simple words the speaker explains the amazing phenomena of the skies.

What Is 'Escrow'?

What is an "escrow?" It is a deposit of money or documents, or both, with an escrow holder, who is really a "stakeholder."

What does an escrow do? The escrow holder gets money from the buyer. He gets documents from the seller and he carries out instructions of both upon the performance of some act or the meeting of some condition.

As a rule, in the escrow instructions, the seller and buyer tell the escrow holder what to do and when.

An escrow arrangement helps in buying and selling land. It is an especially useful device when you may live in another city or expect to be gone when time comes to close the deal.

Suppose, through a real estate man, you find a buyer for your place. But he may not want to pay in full until you can give him clear title or it may take time to raise the money. So you agree on terms and both of you use the escrow to put the deal through.

As a neutral go-between, the escrow holder, which may be a bank, may only carry out instructions you give him. He cannot, for example, give you advice as to whether your deal is a good one, or give legal advice.

The buyer may have the escrow holder hold his money until the title is approved; prorate real estate taxes, rents, insurance; pay the seller at close of escrow; receive and record the deed from the seller, etc.

As a rule, you work out most deals before you open the escrow. Look carefully at "preliminary arrangements," "deposit receipts" or "escrow instructions," for such papers may be binding. As a rule, one or more of them will be your basic contract.
