

Two New Volumes on Eastern Oregon Available at Nyssa Public Library

According to Mrs. Max Urry, librarian, the following new books are available at Nyssa public library.

"Westfall Country" by Earl R. Smith. Here is the real West of bygone days—not the synthetic product of other modern media. This is a history of Eastern Oregon, our own area.

"The Rainbow Years" by Mabel Barbee Lee. The author knew all about life in a mining camp; she had grown up in one, and long ago had resolved never to live in any camp with a family of her own. That was before she met Howard Lee. This mining camp is located in Eastern Oregon in the early 1900's.

"Mata Hari" by Sam Waagenaar. Since Mata Hari was executed by a French firing squad after being condemned as a spy for the Germans, her fate has been debated by historians.

"Chaos Below Heaven" by Eugene Vale. This is an epic novel of a modern Prometheus, a scientist who brings to man a gift as valuable as fire—and faces the purgatory of responsibility for its use.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

First meeting of the Mydies Mixers 4-H club was held Feb. 25 in the Adrian high school building. Elected to office were Laura Mackey, president; Nonie Matthews, vice president; Kathy Wenke, secretary; Lois Seuell, treasurer.

Mary Tooley, game leader; Carol Brock, news reporter; Diane Shy, song leader; Jan Phifer, American flag leader; Becky Wenke, 4-H leader; Carylee Mefford, sergeant-at-arms.

The group selected Mydies Mixers for the club name.

Kathy Wenke and Nonie Matthews will give a demonstration at the next meeting to be held on March 11 at the home of the group's leader, Mrs. Myra Matthews.

—Carol Brock, Reporter.

FETED ON ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Council were Feb. 20 guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Council in New Plymouth where they celebrated the elder Council couple's birthday anniversaries. Charles Moore of New Plymouth, Mrs. R. C. Smith Jr., Karen and Karl of Nyssa were also guests. In the afternoon the group took a trip to Squaw Butte.

"The Other America" by Michael Harrington. Our American poor are fat with hunger for that is what cheap foods do. They are without adequate housing, education and medical care.

"The Beloved Invader" by Eugenia Price. Is man merely punished by human tragedy—or is there a redemptive use for it in the universe?

"The Razor's Edge" by Somerset Maugham. The story of a man who found a faith.

"Don't Quote Me" by Marie Torre. A lively behind-the-camera look at television by the reporter who went to jail to protect a news source in the Judy Garland-CBS dispute.

"Give Joy to My Youth" by Teresa Gallagher. A memoir of Dr. Tom Dooley written by a co-worker who knew Dr. Dooley's methods, plans, hopes and whole public career from a very special point of view.

"The Revolt of Sarah Perkins" by Marian Cockrell. Miss Perkins had come to replace a long line of teachers who had likewise arrived, blooming with health and enthusiasm, but really to find a suitable marriage. Sarah was hired because she looked tired, meek and mild—but the town didn't recognize the fact that the wide open spaces could change all that.

"The Princesses" by Beni Montresor. Lovers of stories about princesses will no longer have to search from book to book for their favorite type of story.

"All Flesh Is Grass" by Clifford D. Simak. A bizarre, invisible barrier surrounds the town. Cordless, dial-less telephones communicate with an alien race.

"Stay Alive" by Jean Carper. Every year avoidable accidents kill 100,000 people and injure 10,000,000 others. Learn how you can prevent this needless tragedy—and stay alive.

"The Fashionable Savages" by John Fairchild. An anatomy of the creators and the ladies who make fashion today.

"Computers and the Human Mind" by Donald G. Finke. An introduction to artificial intelligence.

"Jacqueline Kennedy" by Hal Dareff. A portrait in courage.

"700 Science Experiments for Everyone." Do you know how to draw electricity from a lemon, to keep a thriving ant colony? This is a safe, exciting book for young people.
