THESE PHOTOS DEPICT SOME of the activities being conducted this week by members of the NHS chapter of Future Homemakers of America, as they observe their national week. In the upper picture is Laurel Beck, chapter treasurer, signing a check to be presented to Knute Cleaver, NHS student body president. Looking on is Mrs. Virginia Steffens, NHS homemaking instructor and FHA chapter adviser. The check is for a frame in which will be placed a large painting of Owyhee dam, created by Carlos Parra and given to Nyssa high school by the Malheur county court. In the lower photo, the FHA girls watch intently as Mrs. Steffens gives instructions for serving at the FFA banquet held Tuesday evening in the school cafeteria.

ADRIAN FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO RECENT BLAZES

Several recent alarms have been answered by the Adrian Rural Fire department. The volunteers were called last Friday to the Bob Bates home where a weed fire was burning out of control.

On Saturday evening, they were summoned to one of Nordsedco's ranches to extinguish a chaff stack blaze. The firemen were called Monday afternoon to the Dale Gilbert farm where a small building ignited from a weed fire.

The department has been doing some controlled burning of weeds on vacant lots and ditch banks within the Adrian townsite.

Malheur PTA Leaders Hear Varied Program At March 14 Meeting

A meeting of the Malheur County Council of PTA was held March 14 at Harper with representatives from Adrian, Jamieson, Harper, Vale, Nyssa, Ontario and Willowcreek units in attendance. During the session, Carl Craig was installed as new president of the county council.

Wesley Kluckham, Oxbow regional 8 vice president, spoke to the group on the proposed increase in state PTA dues which will be voted on at the state convention.

Mrs. Sanford Wagg, scholarship chairman, reported that the seven participating units listed above gave $500 for a local scholarship; $225, state; and $100 to Treasure Valley Community college.

A report was given by Mrs. Lester Cleaver, state parliamentarian, on the Western States conference which she attended March 3 in San Francisco. The session was sponsored by the National PTA and National Juvenile Court Foundation.

Blair Whipple from the County Mental Health clinic showed a film on children's emotions revealing the major feelings of childhood, including curiosity, fear, jealousy, anger and joy. The narrator pointed out the principal characteristics of youngsters' emotions, showing how careful teaching can prevent or lessen childhood fears.

Entertainment was provided by the Treasure Valley chorus and refreshments were served by members of the Harper unit.

Next meeting will be held during May at Adrian.

MALHEUR GROUP ATTENDS MENTAL HEALTH SESSION

Mrs. J. W. Rigney, special education teacher in Nyssa schools, attended a meeting last Friday in La Grande. The session, under direction of the State Board of Mental Health, was one of a series held every two months to give added support to the various areas of mental health problems.

Others attending from Malheur county included Mrs. Marquina, Mrs. Langdon and Jess Armas from the public welfare department; Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Pickett, health department; Verne Flock and Blair Whipple, mental health clinic.

VACATION IN CALIFORNIA
