"Canada." A vacation guide-book.
 "The Group" by Mary McCarthy. This is the book that Mary McCarthy's admirers have been waiting for.
 "The First Ladies Cook Book" by Parents Press. This book contains the favorite recipes of all the Presidents of the United States. More than this, it also contains contemporary comments from diaries and letters of Presidential families and even much more.

"Eighth Moon" by Sansan, as told to Bette Lord. Sansan was four when the Communists took Tientsin. She was 17 when she left China in 1962. This is her story of the years between: how she lived, what she hated, whom she loved; a sturdy, stubborn girl's true record of an existence none of her readers has ever known.

"Vanity Fair" by William Thackeray. A classic with reproductions of the original illustrations by Thackeray.

"How to Use Tact and Skill in Handling People" by Dr. Paul P. Parker. Thousands of leading business executives have paid over $1 million for the powerful, success-building facts contained in this great guide to getting people to do what you want them to do!

"Better Homes and Gardens Family Camping." How to enjoy carefree camping. This book contains tips on outdoor cooking, fire-building and an equipment check list.

"The Search for Bruno Heidler" by Stephen Marlowe. Bruno Heidler was the highest ranking Nazi still at large. He had defied apprehension for 20 years, but now time was closing in.

"Beauty Behind Barbed Wire" by Allen H. Eaton. The arts of the Japanese in U.S. war relocation camps are revealed in this book. It is a story without parallel in this country. It tells how more than 100,000 people of Japanese ancestry, most of them American-born citizens, brought beauty into their lives when they were evacuated from their West Coast homes during World War II.

Farm Income for 1966 Predicted to Set Some New High Records Since 1947-48

Net farm income in 1966 will probably top any year on record with the exception of the post World War II years of 1947 and 1948.

Mrs. Elvera Horrell, Oregon State university agricultural economist, points out that the continued decline in farm numbers means that income per farm and per farm person also will probably reach a record high this year. Farm product prices for the first four months top the same months in 1965 by 12 percent.

Current production increases point the way toward lower prices later in the year. Farm price average for the year as a whole, however, may top 1965, it was noted.

production expenses, according to Mrs. Horrell, will soak up some but not all of the increase in cash receipts. Prices that farmers pay for production items, including interest, taxes and wages, are running about 4 percent above a year earlier.

Background to the rising farm income is the rapid growth shown by the nation's economy as a whole. Estimates for first quarter gross national product top year ago totals by more than 8 percent. Growth in employment and rates of pay have meant higher wage and salary payments. Wholesale and retail prices also are moving up.
