QUESTIONS ABOUT DO-IT-YOURSELF FABRIC FINISHES

... which protect against stains frequently come to our county extension offices. In the past, such finishes had to be applied at the factory. Now, there are sprays for draperies and upholstery which you can put on at home.

These sprays are good, but don't give as complete protection as those applied at the factory. However, they are well worthwhile and shun many types of spills. When buying a spray, be sure to read the label. The silicone products protect against water-based stains only. Those known as fluorochromicals resist both oily and water stains.

Remember, these finishes are not cure-alls. Prompt attention to spills is still important.

YOU HOMEMAKERS EXERT MORE PRESSURE

... than you think around the house! Did you know that every time you take a step in high stiletto heels, you exert about 2000 pounds pressure per square inch even though you tip the scales under 120 pounds?

That's because all the weight is concentrated in a tiny area and can damage your wood, tile, asphalt, concrete or any floor.

The best solution, and also the safest is to wear flat heels for housework. Waxing will help protect the floor. Covering with a rug helps even more.

A MILLION DOLLARS

... from our collective pocket books goes for medical quackery and other types of fakes or swindles.

Before you put out money for a remedy that promises to be a "cure-all," investigate it thoroughly. Unfortunately, many of the people who are taken in by these frauds are the elderly who can't afford to waste money.

This problem has become so big that seven government agencies are joining forces with the American Medical association and Better Business bureau to study the matter and work out ways to help protect the public.

MORE THAN $50 MILLION

... are spent each year on unnecessary appliance service calls, repair men tell us. How many dollars have you contributed?

One feels pretty silly if a repair man finds a washer isn't working because it isn't plugged in. That may not happen to you, but service people say that it is a common occurrence. Most service calls come from simple oversight.

Overloading of washers, improper use of bleach and lack of leveling the appliance account for a waste of about $15 million.

So, if your appliances appear to act up, look in your instruction book. Most of them include a list of things to check before you call a service man. Incidentally, you may save about $10.
