Happiness is Naturalgasatisfaction

A comfortable home contributes much to happiness. Many of the happiest, most livable homes in this community are heated with natural gas. Why? Because it is active heat. It moves around. It circulates. It reaches every corner of every room. It's vented: bringing in clean, fresh air to be heated, as it dispels stale, used-up, house-worn air. It's the healthiest, freshest, cleanest, most invigorating heating energy you can buy. Yet for this superior heat, you'll pay no more. Better still, if you also heat water and cook with gas, you'll pay a great deal less. That's naturalgasatisfaction.

Gas makes the big difference

--that's why natural gas heats more American homes than any other fuel

It's the FLAME that counts!
