Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lorensen and members of her Owyhee church Sunday school class left Nyssa at 10 a.m. Saturday on a "fun" trip to Boise.

The group visited Candy Land at Ann Morrison park and then went to Julia Davis park where they toured the museum, visited the zoo, playland, fun spot and saw the pioneer village.
Their next stop was at the state capital building. They rode the elevator to the fourth floor, then descended seeing items of interest along the way. Special interest was shown by the children when they visited the House chambers.
As the youngsters left the capital building, they sang "This Land Is Mine," which according to Mrs. Lorensen, "seemed fitting to the occasion."
After leaving the capital grounds, they went to the municipal airport to observe air traffic.
Those taking the trip included Larry, Barbara and Joyce Haney, Kristy Chamberlain, Sandra Atagi, Lori Powell, Stacy Glenn, Pamela and Kathy Ward, Harriet and Gloria Lorensen, Joy Glaze, Annette Chapin, May Hori, Becky Skogan, Carmen Astoreca, Mike Tyner, Ruth and Stuart Stephen.

Swisher Experiences Dormitory At International House in Chicago

(From the Nyssa High Bulldog)
Clyde Swisher, Nyssa High School English instructor, spent last year studying under a John Hay Fellow study grant at the University of Chicago.
Residing at International House, a dormitory for graduate students, was quite an experience in international living for Swisher. Half of the students staying at the residence hall were from foreign countries and these students wore their native costumes.
"It was almost like living in a foreign country for ten months," he stated.
Gains New Ideas From Studies
After attending classes in literature, history, philosophy, Greek, anthropology and art history, Clyde Swisher said, "I've come back to Nyssa High more enthusiastic than ever and hope to try out some of the new ideas I gained from association with the other nine John Hay Fellows."
In contrast to Eastern Oregon, the instructor remarked that Chicago is very damp, cold and windy. Last winter, Chicago suffered its coldest year on record.
The fellowship winner enjoyed an opportunity of seeing the Chicago Symphony, one of the finest symphonies in the world, and the Art Institute which ranks as one of the best art galleries in the world.
Views Theatrical Productions
He also saw many theatrical productions including "Hello, Dolly" with Carol Channing.
