Buddhist Rites Held for Victim Of Farm Accident

Wake services for Stephen Hisao (Steve) Hirai were conducted Friday evening at the Buddhist church in Ontario. Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon at the church, with the Rev. T. H. Hirota officiating.

Mr. Hirai was killed in a farming accident Wednesday morning, Nov. 2, 1966, near his home in the Ridgeview community, route 1, Homedale.

He was born Oct. 7, 1920, in Seattle and attended school there until moving to Vale with his parents in 1932. He was graduated from Vale high school in 1938, moved to the Homedale area two years later and had farmed in that community ever since.

The deceased was married in Ontario on March 12, 1949, to Katherine Oyama of Caldwell.

Mr. Hirai was a director of the Boise Valley Japanese American Citizens league, served as president in 1957 and was a longtime member of the Farm Bureau organization.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by two sons, David and Robert; three daughters, Amy, Julie and Jeannie Hirai, all of the home.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. I. Hirai of Homedale; a brother, Susmum Kobayashi of Fukuoka, Japan. His father preceded him in death on Dec. 30, 1962.

Services were under direction of Bertelson-Lienkaemper chapel in Ontario, and interment was made in Evergreen cemetery there.
