

Wrestling Outlook Given for 1966-67

(From the Nyssa High Bulldog)

Eleven letterman wrestlers have returned this year to try for another successful season.

The returning lettermen are Allen Cleaver and Richard Parra, 106 pounds; Terry Pierce and Rick Phillips, 115; Bob Church, 123; Ralph Estrada and Rudy Vendrell, 130; Sam Cleaver, 136; Darryl King, 141; Fred Esplin, 148; and Jim Ableman, 157.

Other wrestlers who should see action this year are Rodney Blaylock, Whad Haney, Marcellino Soliz, Dan Marostica, Steve Pecora, Chipper Burningham, Dan Hiatt and David Berrett.

Coach Mel Calhoun stated, "Primarily, the overall team strength will not be as balanced as last year due to no participants, as yet, in the heavier weight classes. However, I have great confidence in the abilities of the team members to win their matches in the lower and middleweight divisions to pull us through."

The loss of Tom Stringer and Steve Petrie, who had impressive records last year, has affected the team balance more than anything else.

Season Reviewed

By JIM ABLEMAN

When the summer comes to a close and practices for the fall sports begin, the Nyssa teams, due to boys working, find it difficult to accumulate enough athletes to hold a practice. Differences in Idaho and Oregon state athletic requirements allow Idaho schools to commence practicing weeks before the Oregon schools. The majority of the schools with which the Bulldogs compete are located in Idaho; therefore, Nyssa's football team is several weeks behind its opponents before holding the first practice session. Each day the team is unable to practice due to lack of participation, it falls farther behind its opponents.

While I was in Ontario, several boys on the Ontario football team approached a friend of mine and me. Snickering to themselves, they said, "We heard you had 10 men out for your first practice. You need one more to make a team, don't you?"

They concluded their speech by saying, "We had 65 boys out for

Hoop Practice Draws Attention Of 30 Participants

(From the Nyssa High Bulldog)

A total of 30 basketball aspirants turned out for the 1966-67 NHS team. Among those turning out are seven seniors, nine juniors and four underclassmen who will be seeing varsity action.

This year's team will be lacking in height with the biggest man being six feet, two inches. Coach Ralph Aldrich stated that this season's team will be faster and more accurate at shooting than last year's squad.

Competition in the valley should be tough this year. In Aldrich's opinion the strongest teams Nyssa will meet should be Emmett, Meridian, Ontario and Weiser.

With two weeks of practice left to go, Aldrich stated that the ball club will be ready to win its fair share of this year's games.

NHS Band Attends SRV Music Clinic

Participating in the SRV Band Clinic Nov. 18-19 at Ontario were the 86 members of the Nyssa High School Band, along with several other bands around the valley.

The band left Nyssa at 9 a.m. and practiced at Ontario with Vale, Homedale, Vallivue, Ontario, Weiser and Fruitland until 3 p.m. Saturday they rehearsed all day in preparation for the concert that night at 7 o'clock in the OHS gym.

The bands were divided into two groups for rehearsals with about 250 students in each division. Each group played a number of selections and then were combined to play a finale, "America the Beautiful."

NHS Band Director Jack Hunt stated that the concert was not only thrilling to listen to but colorful since each band wore its school colors.

our first practice." What is a person to do when confronted with such a situation? I felt like crawling in a hole.

Will this problem exist next year and the year after that? Future football players of NHS, take heed. Victory is contained within yourselves. An all-out effort starting weeks before the first football game is necessary for a successful season.

White Satin Keglers Attend State Tourney

The White Satin Sugar women's bowling team returned home Monday evening after participating in the state tournament at Albany. They report that this year was the largest state tourney ever held. There were 725 teams entered, 109 more than in any previous year.

The Nyssa team was comprised of Sadie Butcher, Virginia Bybee, Lois Page, Mable Fanger and Ernie Bertram. Harriet Cleaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cleaver, was a guest on the trip.

While the women were there they toured the Oregon State university campus at Corvallis and visited Vicki Newman, Marilyn Gonyer and Pamela Bybee.

The keglers wore matching ensembles designed with Amalgamated Sugar company's colors. They were attired in white satin blouses, trimmed in red; black skirts; white jackets, with the White Satin emblem; red neck scarves; red heels and handbags.

HEAR OF PATIENTS' NEEDS

American Legion auxiliary women met Nov. 18 at Brownie's cafe.

Special guests were District president Mrs. Evelyn Ogilvie of John Day and Vice President Mrs. Lola Ripa of Mt. Vernon.

During the meeting a report was given concerning needs of patients in Veterans' hospitals at Portland and Roseburg.
