Jesse Fry Among LDS Missionaries Singing for Pope

By Mabelle McKague
NU ACRES—Mrs. George Pulsipher recently received a letter from her son, Jesse Fry, who is serving an LDS mission in Italy, with headquarters in Florence. He was among a group of missionaries who sang for the Pope upon his arrival in Florence for the Christmas season.

The Pope was an hour late arriving, so the missionaries sang for the townspeople. While they were singing, TV cameras recorded the program for a later half-hour broadcast shown throughout Europe. They sang in both English and Italian and greeted the Pope with "Jingle Bells."

Jesse reports that this was the most thrilling Christmas Eve he had spent in his whole lifetime.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Beus of Othello, Wash., were recent visitors in the home of her mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Pulsipher. They had been on an extended trip to Michigan and stopped enroute home.
