LAILA AYYOUB, first place winner in the costume division of last Friday's Back-To-School parade. She resides in Yakima, Wash., and has been a houseguest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Rigney. Wearing spangles and bobbles and bright shining beads, Laila entered the parade, carrying a sign "Miss Flapper, 1924" and leading "Tootsie", the Rigney's Pomeranian, carrying the American flag. Incidentally Laila made her own costume from a discarded plastic table cloth. Second-place honors in this division went to David Lowe and company, while the third-place award went to Mary Ann and Jackie Chadwick. — Staff Photo.

Firemen Answer Call At Elevator

Members of the Nyssa Volunteer Fire department was called at approximately 11:30 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 5 to the Nyssa elevator. The trouble was quickly averted according to Bill Wahlert, proprietor.

Employees sounded the alarm when smoke was noted rising between a pulley and a belt. It is reported that the smoke was caused by friction and little damage resulted.

Volunteer Firemen Answer Two Calls

Members of the Volunteer Fire department answered two fire alarms Sunday afternoon. At approximately 2 p.m., they were called to the Damon Savage farm where a stubble field was burning.

An hour later they went to the Woodie Seuell residence when a grass and brush fire was reported.

It is reported that no damage was caused from the fires and they were quickly extinguished.
